REWARD ENTERPRISES, INC.
Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements
(A Development Stage Company)
December 31, 2002

NOTE 1 ORGANIZATION AND DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

Reward Enterprises, Inc. (hereinafter the Company), was incorporated on December 12, 1997, under the laws of the State of Nevada primarily for the purpose of offering interactive online internet entertainment and game playing. On August 15, 2001, the Company entered into a merger agreement with Q Presents, Inc., which was incorporated in the State of California for the purpose of providing innovative event management and marketing automation solutions to take advantage of the meeting, hotel, trade show and convention industries. At the time of the merger, the Company changed its focus to match that of Q Presents, Inc.

The Company expects to generate revenue through licensing its Q automated event management services and related supported offerings; licensing its intranet and online services; sales of dedicated advertising; sales of related merchandise; and its promotion and publicity services.

Since the merger, the Company has focused on the development of its business plan. The Company s new management has recently entered into the specialized international communications market to provide international voice, internet access, and global network services to corporate clients, communication carriers and internet service providers. The Company will utilize the web based platform that was originally intended as an event registration and automation solution for its telecommunication business.

The Company s year end is June 30.

NOTE 2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This summary of significant accounting policies of Reward Enterprises, Inc. is presented to assist in understanding the Company s financial statements. The financial statements and notes are representations of the Company s management, which is responsible for their integrity and objectivity. These accounting policies conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the financial statements.

Accounting Method

The Company s financial statements are prepared using the accrual method of accounting.

Basic and Diluted Loss Per Share

Net loss per share was computed by dividing the net loss by the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of shares was calculated by taking the number of shares outstanding and weighting them by the amount of time that they were outstanding. Basic and diluted loss pershare were the same, as the inclusion of common stock equivalents would be anti-dilutive.

NOTE 2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Going Concern

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern.

As shown in the accompanying financial statements, the Company incurred a net loss of $151,141 for the period ended December 31, 2002, and has no revenue. The Company is currently putting technology in place that will, if successful, mitigate this factor that raises substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded assets, or the amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary in the event the Company cannot continue in existence.

Management plans to seek additional capital through a public offering of its stock that will provide the funds needed to increase liquidity, fund internal growth and fully implement its business plan.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the consolidated statements of cash flows, the Company considers all short-term debt securities purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Interim Financial Statements

The interim financial statements for the period ended December 31, 2002 included herein have not been audited, at the request of the Company. They reflect all adjustments, which are, in the opinion of management, necessary to present fairly the results of operations for the period. All such adjustments are normal recurring adjustments. The results of operations for the period presented is not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the full fiscal year.

Provision for Taxes

Income taxes are provided based upon the liability method of accounting pursuant to SFAS No. 109 Accounting for Income Taxes. Under this approach, deferred income taxes are recorded to reflect the tax consequences on future years of differences between the tax basis of assets and liabilities and their financial reporting amounts at each year-end. A valuation allowance is recorded against deferred tax assets if management does not believe the Company has met the more likely than not standard imposed by SFAS No. 109 to allow recognition of such an asset.

At December 31, 2002, the Company had net deferred tax assets of approximately $206,000 principally arising from net operating loss carryforwards for income tax purposes, and a $14,400 book-tax difference related to stock options issued for services. As management of the Company cannot determine that it is more likely than not that the Company will realize the benefit of the net deferred tax asset, a valuation allowance equal to the net deferred tax asset has been established at December 31, 2002.

At December 31, 2002, the Company has net operating loss carryforwards of approximately $823,000, which expire in the years through 2022.

Use of Estimates

The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses. Such estimates primarily relate to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the financial statements. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

Impaired Asset Policy

In October 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets (SFAS No. 144). SFAS No. 144 replaces SFAS No. 121, Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to Be Disposed Of. This new standard establishes a single accounting model for long-lived assets to be disposed of by sale, including discontinued operations. SFAS No. 144 requires that these long-lived assets be measured at the lower of carrying amount or fair value less cost to sell, whether reported in continuing operations or discontinued operations. This statement is effective beginning for fiscal years after December 15, 2001. The Company adopted SFAS No. 144 and does not believe that the adoption will have a material impact on the financial statements of the Company at December 31, 2002.

The Company has recorded an impairment to its software license website and computer hardware of $65,160 during the year ended June 30, 2001, effectively reducing the recorded amount of these assets to $1,191 at June 30, 2001. As of December 31, 2002, the Company had not deemed any of its other assets to be impaired.

Web Site Development

The Company has adopted SOP 98-1 as amplified by EITF 00-2, Accounting for Web Site Development Costs. In accordance with this adoption, the Company has capitalized website development costs. During the year ended June 30, 2002, the Company capitalized $145,979 of website development costs, which were acquired in the August 15, 2001 merger. In November 2001, the Company began amortizing the web site costs using the straight-line method over a five year expected life for a total amortization expense of $14,598 at December 31, 2002.

REWARD ENTERPRISES, INC.
Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements
(A Development Stage Company)
December 31, 2002

The Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities, as amended by SFAS No. 137, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities - Deferral of the Effective Date of FASB No. 133, and SFAS No. 138, Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments and Certain Hedging Activities, which is effective for the Company as of January 1, 2001. These standards establish accounting and reporting standards for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts, and for hedging activities. They require that an entity recognize all derivatives as either assets or liabilities in the consolidated balance sheet and measure those instruments at fair value.

If certain conditions are met, a derivative may be specifically designated as a hedge, the objective of which is to match the timing of gain or loss recognition on the hedging derivative with the recognition of (i) the changes in the fair value of the hedged asset or liability that are attributable to the hedged risk or (ii) the earnings effect of the hedged forecasted transaction. For a derivative not designated as a hedging instrument, the gain or loss is recognized in income in the period of change.

Historically, the Company has not entered into derivatives contracts to hedge existing risks or for speculative purposes.

At December 31, 2002, the Company has not engaged in any transactions that would be considered derivative instruments or hedging activities.

Compensated Absences

The Company currently does not have a policy regarding accruals of compensated absences. The Company intends to expense these costs as incurred.

Accounting Pronouncements

In June 2002, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 146, Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities (SFAS No. 146). SFAS No. 146 addresses significant issues regarding the recognition, measurement, and reporting of costs associated with exit and disposal activities, including restructuring activities. SFAS No. 146 also addresses recognition of certain costs related to terminating a contract that is not a capital lease, costs to consolidate facilities or relocate employees, and termination benefits provided to employees that are involuntarily terminated under the terms of a one-time benefit arrangement that is not an ongoing benefit arrangement or an individual deferred-compensation contract. SFAS No. 146 was issued in June 2002 and is effective December 31, 2002, with early adoption encouraged. The impact on the Company's financial position or results of operations from adopting SFAS No. 146 has not been determined.

REWARD ENTERPRISES, INC.
Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements
(A Development Stage Company)

In April 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 145, Rescission of FASB Statements No. 44, and 64, Amendment of FASB Statement No. 13, and Technical Corrections , which updates, clarifies and simplifies existing accounting pronouncements. FASB No. 44, which required all gains and losses from the extinguishment of debt to be aggregated and, if material, classified as an extraordinary item, net of related tax effect was rescinded. As a result, FASB 64, which amended FASB 44, was rescinded as it was no longer necessary. SFAS No. 145 amended FASB No. 13 to eliminate an inconsistency between the required accounting for sale-leaseback transactions and the required accounting for certain lease modifications that have economic effects that are similar to sale-leaseback transactions. Management has not yet determined the effects of adopting this Statement on the financial position or results of operations, except for the reclassification of debt forgiveness in the year ended June 30, 2001.

In October 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations (SFAS No. 143). SFAS No. 143 establishes guidelines related to the retirement of tangible long-lived assets of the Company and the associated retirement costs. This statement requires that the fair value of a liability for an asset retirement obligation be recognized in the period in which it is incurred if a reasonable estimate of fair value can be made. The associated asset retirement costs are capitalized as part of the carrying amount of the long-lived assets. This statement is effective for financial statements issued for the fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2002 and with earlier application encouraged. The Company adopted SFAS No. 143 and does not believe that the adoption will have a material impact on the financial statements of the Company.

In June 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 141, "Business Combinations" and SFAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets". SFAS No. 141 provides for the elimination of the pooling-of-interest method of accounting for business combinations with an acquisition date of July 1, 2001 or later. SFAS No. 142 prohibits the amortization of goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite lives and requires periodic reassessment of the underlying value of such assets for impairment. SFAS No. 142 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. September 1, 2001, the Company adopted SFAS No. 142. Application of the nonamortization provision of SFAS No. 142 resulted in no change to reported earnings at December 31, 2002.

In September 2000, the FASB issued SFAS No. 140 Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishment of Liabilities. This statement provides accounting and reporting standards for transfers and servicing of financial assets and extinguishment of liabilities and also provides consistent standards for distinguishing transfers of financial assets that are sales from transfers that are secured borrowings.

SFAS No. 140 is effective for recognition and reclassification of collateral and for disclosures relating to securitization transactions and collateral for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2000, and is effective for transfers and servicing of financial assets and extinguishments of liabilities occurring after March 31, 2001. The Company believes that the adoption of this standard will not have a material effect on the Company's results of operations or financial position.

Reclassifications

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to the fiscal 2002 presentation.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiary, Q Presents, Inc., after elimination of intercompany accounts and transactions.

NOTE 3 ACQUISITIONS

On August 15, 2001, Reward Enterprises, Inc. acquired Q Presents, Inc. with the issuance of 6,000,000 shares of common stock in exchange for all of the outstanding common stock of Q Presents, Inc. This transaction had an accounting date of August 31, 2001, which was the date that the transaction was final. The value of the stock issued at the fair market price of $0.35 per share was $2,100,000.

The purchase price of Q Presents, Inc. was $2,100,000, determined by the fair market value of Reward's stock. The net book deficit of assets acquired was $105,588.

The assets and liabilities acquired were as follows as of August 31, 2001:

Cash in bank	$	9
Accounts receivable from officer Website		43

(A Development Stage Company)

After the elimination of $2,601 of interest owed between the companies, as part of the acquisition transaction, $102,987 was allotted to the value of the website based upon costs expensed during the website's development. The balance of the purchase price was allocated to goodwill that was acquired in the merger. Pursuant to the acquisition, Q Presents, Inc. became a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company.

NOTE 4 PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. The useful lives of property and equipment for purposes of computing depreciation is five years. The computer equipment in the Company's Vancouver office was abandoned when the Company moved to the Q Presents offices in California. The Company deemed this remaining book value of $1,059 to be an office expense for the quarter ending September 30, 2001.

NOTE 5 GOODWILL

The Company acquired goodwill in the acquisition of Q Presents, Inc. (See Note 3). This goodwill will be accounted for in accordance with SFAS No. 142. (See Note 2.) The Company will periodically review this asset for possible impairment. At June 30, 2002 it was determined the asset was not impaired.

NOTE 6 COMMON STOCK

Upon incorporation, subscriptions for 1,000,000 shares of common stock were issued at $0.01 per share for $10,000. In July 1999, the Company's board of directors authorized a 1 for 10 reverse stock split. This decreased the number of issued and outstanding shares to 1,000,000 and the par value of the stock to $0.001 per share. All financial statement information herein has been changed to reflect this stock split.

Additional share issuances under Regulation D, Rule 504, include 1,400,000 common shares at $0.01 and 315,000 common shares at $0.50 per share, for total proceeds of $171,500.

At June 30, 1999, $10,000 in stock subscriptions was receivable. During the year ended June 30, 2000, these subscriptions were satisfied.

During October 2000, 10,000,000 common stock shares were issued at $0.001 per share for cash proceeds of $10,000. This issuance resulted in one of the Company's officers receiving shares which constituted a 64% ownership in the Company. An additional 200,000 common stock shares were issued at $0.001 per share to satisfy a note payable. The 10,200,000 shares issued in these transactions were subsequently cancelled in accordance with the terms of the agreement to acquire Q Presents, Inc. (See Note 3.)

During December 2000, stock options were exercised in exchange for consulting fees payable. These stock options were exercised, resulting in 1,600,000 common stock shares being issued in exchange for satisfying $160,000 in consulting fees payable.

In 2001, 1,955,000 options for common stock were exercised. One million of the options were for cash at $0.10 per share. Another 325,000 of the options were for cash at $0.25 per share, and the remaining 630,000 options were for director services at $0.10 per share.

In August 2001, the Company issued 6,000,000 shares of common stock in its acquisition of Q Presents, Inc. (See Note 3.)

Between October and December 2001, 572,000 options for common stock were exercised. Two hundred thousand of the options were for cash at $0.10 per share and 372,000 options were for cash at $0.25 per share for which the Company received $113,000.

In December 2001, the Company issued an additional 890,000 shares of common stock to twelve investors in consideration of $890.

Between January and March 2002, the Company issued an additional 660,000 shares of common stock to three investors in consideration of $31,500.

In April 2002, the Company issued 2,945,000 shares of common stock for services in the amount of $14,725.

In May and June of 2002, the Company issued 366,667 shares of common stock for cash in the amount of $52,500.

Between July and September of 2002, the Company issued 293,333 shares of common stock for cash in the amount of $38,500.

In October 2002, the Company issued 725,000 shares of common stock for services totaling $7,250.

NOTE 7 STOCK OPTIONS AND WARRANTS

In September 1998, the Company adopted the Reward Enterprises, Inc. 1999 Directors and Officers Stock Option Plan, a non-qualified plan. During 1999, the Company granted 2,500,000 common stock options for the services of consultants. The options issued include negotiation rights and begin vesting in June 1999, with 25% of the eligible shares vesting each year until the recipients are fully vested in their shares.

The Company entered into consulting agreements with three directors of the Company, whereby two of the directors would each receive $5,000 per month and 1,000,000 common stock options (with half exercisable at $0.10 per share and half exercisable at $0.25 per share) and the other director would receive $2,500 per month and 500,000 common stock options (with half exercisable at $0.10 per share and half exercisable at $0.25 per share). These consulting agreements were terminated effective October 31, 2000. All options related to these agreements expire April 30, 2009. At March 2001, a total of 630,000 options were exercised in exchange for accrued consulting fees due to them of $65,000.

On October 16, 2000, the Company adopted the 2000 Stock Option Plan, a non-qualified plan, that allows the Company to distribute up to 7,000,000 shares of common stock to directors, officers and employees. Stock options of 200,000 were granted to a consultant. The exercise price of these options is $0.10 per share for the first 100,000 options and $0.25 per share for the balance of 100,000 options. These options will expire September 30, 2009. During November 2000, 2,230,000 options were granted with an exercise price of $0.10 per share, in settlement of consulting fees with an expiration date of April 30, 2001. During the year ending June 30, 2001 a total of 3,455,000 options were exercised.

The fair value of each option granted is estimated on the grant date using the Black-Scholes option price calculation. The following assumptions were made in estimating fair value: Risk-free interest rate of 5% and expected life of ten years. A minimum volatility of 30% was used and resulted in no adjustment to compensation.

Between October and December 2001, options to purchase 572,000 shares of common stock were exercised and the Company received $103,000.

In December 2001, as part of the employment agreements with Mr. Edward Withrow III and Mr. Warren K. Withrow, the Company issued stock options for 1,000,000 shares with exercise prices of $0.04 per share and 400,000 shares with exercise prices of $0.10 per share. The Black-Scholes option price calculation of the fair value of these options is $10,400, based upon a risk-free interest rate of 5%, volatility of 30% and a term of ten years.

The Company signed an agreement with SBI USA, a member of Softbank Investment Group, in February, 2002. (See Note 10.) This agreement included 3,000,000 warrants for purchase of 3,000,000 shares of common stock with exercise prices of $0.50, $0.75, and $1.00 per share. In May of 2002, the Company attached 500,000 warrants for an equal number of shares of common stock to promissory notes that were issued. (See Note 10.) The warrants have exercise prices from $0.05 to $0.10 per share. The Company also attached 40,000 warrants to various issuances of common stock in June 2002. The holders of the warrants may purchase an equal number of common stock shares at exercise prices from $0.25 to $0.45 per share. These warrants were valued using the Black-Scholes option price calculator using a risk-free interest rate of two percent, volatility of 70%, a term of one year, and either an equity price of $0.05 or $0.12 depending on the date of issuance. It was determined that the 400,000 warrants attached to one of the promissory notes had a value of $4,000.

Following is a summary of the Company's stock options:

NOTE 8 RELATED PARTIES

Certain consultants who received common stock options under the Company's non-qualified stock option plan are the Company's directors and stockholders. (See Note 6.) Until October 2001, an associate of a director of the Company provided office space to the Company in exchange for services provided by the director. The value of this space was considered to be $2,000 per month and was considered to be a loan from the director at that time.

In September 2001, the Company's board of directors approved consulting agreements with Edward W. Withrow III and Warren K. Withrow for consulting/employment agreements providing for payments to each of $3,500 cash per month and options to purchase up to 1,800,000 shares of common stock. These options were subsequently reduced to 700,000 shares in December 2001 and the cash value of services was increased to $10,000 per month, which was to begin in April 2002; however, as of June 30, 2002, no compensation has been paid, and the agreements are being renegotiated.

During the year ended June 30, 2002, the Company extended salary advances to officers for a total of $26,000. The Company has yet to finalize compensation agreements with its officers, but has plans to do so in the very near future. In the period ended December 31, 2002, the Company paid two of its officers a total of $55,000 in compensation.

From time to time the Company receives funds from related parties in the form of loans. These are recorded as unsecured, non-interest bearing, short-term loans, payable upon demand. At December 31, 2002, there were no related party loans outstanding.

NOTE 9 COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

In September 2001, the Company also entered into a letter of intent with Live Media Events, Inc. On January 10, 2002, the Company and Live Media Events, Inc. entered into a cancellation and mutual release agreement on the aforementioned letter of intent.

In February 2002, the Company entered into a non-exclusive financial advisory contract with SBI USA, a member of Softbank Investment Group. In consideration for the services of SBI, the Company is obligated to pay a $12,500 retainer which becomes due and payable upon funding the Company's $500,000 promissory note. The Company also granted common stock warrants pursuant to this agreement. (See Note 7.) At December 31, 2002, the Company has not paid any of the retainer, and has not received any funding from the issuance of the aforementioned promissory note.

December 31, 2002

NOTE 10 LOANS PAYABLE

The Company issued two convertible promissory notes for a total of $30,000 in May 2002. Both notes bear interest at 20%. Both notes had warrants attached, and were convertible into common stock within 60 and 90 days of issuance. Neither note was converted. Under their original terms, the notes were payable on or before either 60 or 90 days from issuance. The $20,000 note is in default, and began accruing interest at 25% in July 2002. The terms of the $10,000 note were extended to December 31, 2002. The $4,000 value of the warrants on the $20,000 note resulted in that note being issued at a discount which will be amortized over the life of the original note. A total of $2,000 was amortized against the discount and a total of $3,024 was accrued as interest on these notes at December 31, 2002.

Item. 2 Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation

THE FOLLOWING ANALYSIS OF THE RESULTS OF OPERATIONS AND FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE CORPORATION FOR THE PERIOD ENDING DECEMBER 31, 2002 SHOULD BE READ IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE CORPORATION'S CONSOLIDATED FINANCIALS STATEMENTS, INCLUDING THE NOTES THERETO, CONTAINED ELSEWHERE IN THIS FORM 10-QSB.

Reward Enterprises, Inc. (the "Corporation" or "Reward") was incorporated in December, 1997 as Sports Entertainment Productions Inc. to pursue opportunities around the world in the Internet based entertainment industry. The name was changed to Reward Enterprises, Inc. in July 1998. Its main objective has been to develop a profitable "Entertainment Mall" through an e-commerce secure "portal." Entertainment options offered would be videos, CDs, virtual casino-style games, free bingo, dice and specialty and interactive video games.

On June 15, 1999, Reward Nevis Group Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Corporation entered into a non-exclusive software license agreement with Chartwell Technologies Inc, of Laguna Hills, California to acquire and develop all software necessary to conduct the Internet gaming activity and to handle all Internet cash transactions. This software is customized and is a full service gaming system that includes twelve casino games, a back-end administrative utility with remote access, I.P. Tracking, e-Commerce software and technical support. The license is non-exclusive and is currently licensed to others. The Corporation is restricted in the use of this technology and cannot sublicense it to others. It is for a period of two years and has provision for renewal for an additional two years. The royalty payable is 15% of gross revenues generated. Pursuant to the agreement, $30,000 has been paid to Chartwell to date for the license, $8,000 for the server from which to operate the software and the virtual casino and $5,000 in the creative development of the CasinoReward.com Web site.

In early 2001, the Corporation became aware that it would likely not be able to continue with its efforts to develop an Internet gaming site, primarily as a result of the poor financial conditions in the marketplace. The Board of Directors then commenced a search for a new opportunity that would allow the Corporation to remain active in the Internet sector on a profitable basis. Q Presents, Inc., a Santa Monica, California (hereinafter "QP") based private corporation, provided an ideal match which on April 12, 2001 resulted in an Acquisition Agreement between Reward and QP. In exchange for all the shares of QP, Reward would issue to QP shareholders a total of 6,000,000 shares of its common stock. Immediately following the issuance of the acquisition shares, the control block of 10,200,000 common stock shares owned by Mr. Robert Dinning and Mr. Brian Doutaz would be cancelled. The Acquisition Agreement was approved by the shareholders of both companies in August, 2001. The control block of 10,200,000 owned by Mr. Robert Dinning and Mr. Brian Doutaz was subsequently cancelled and the Corporation issued 6,000,000 shares to QP shareholders. The Company's definitive proxy statement filed with the SEC on August 8, 2001 and its Form 8-K filed with the SEC on August 20, 2001 are incorporated herein by reference.

Q Presents, Inc. is a California corporation targeting the hotel and conference segment of the Event Automation industry. Q Presents, Inc. is in its launching stage and intends to provide localized and web based custom event registration and automation solutions to the high growth Event Automation market.

In conjunction with the Acquisition Agreement, the Corporation negotiated a cancellation of its Software License Agreement with Chartwell that included forgiveness of all debt owing to Chartwell and the elimination of any outstanding debt on the Balance Sheet. As part of the cancellation of the Agreement with Chartwell, the Corporation also turned over sundry computer equipment.

Mr. Edward W Withrow III, Mr. Warren K Withrow and Mr. Ron Hall were appointed as Directors of Reward Enterprises, Inc. Mr. Edward W. Withrow III was appointed as President and Co-Chief Executive Officer and Mr. Warren K. Withrow was appointed as Treasurer and Co-Chief Executive Officer.

In September 2001, the Board authorized the Corporation to enter into Consulting Agreements with both Mr. Edward W. Withrow III and Mr. Warren K. Withrow. The proposed Consulting Agreements called for terms of sixty (60) months, compensation of $3,500.00 USD monthly and the issuance of two options to purchase the aggregate of 700,000 shares of the Corporation's common stock, respectively. The compensation under these agreements have been changed to $10,000 per month, but will not become effective and payable until April 2002. The compensation under these agreements are currently being renegotiated. On May 16, 2002 Mr. Warren K. Withrow resigned as an officer and as a director of the Company. On July 1, 2002 Mr. Joseph Vigliarolo joined the Company as President and Chief Financial Officer respectively.

The Corporation's new Management made the decision to balance its technology-based business model with a complimentary non-technical or Old Economy based business. Management made the decision to license the rights to an Old Economy business as opposed to creating one internally. New management has recently entered into the specialized international communications market to provide international voice, Internet access and global network services to corporate clients, communication carriers and Internet service providers. The Company will utilize the web based platform that was originally intended as an event registration and automation solution for its telecommunication business.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

There were no revenues in the quarter ending December 31, 2002.

During the quarter ending December 31, 2002, the Corporation incurred operating expenses of $83,444 compared to $118,821 for the quarter ending December 31, 2001.

These expenses primarily consisted of professional fees of $5,551, office and administration costs of $30,945, amortization of $7,299, compensation of $34,000, travel of $3,182 and Research and Development of $955..

The Corporation continues to carefully control its expenses, and has limited its debt outstanding as it moves forward with the implementation of its business plan. The Corporation has no employees at the present time and engages personnel through consulting agreements where necessary as well as outside attorneys, accountants and technical consultants. All previous consulting agreements have been terminated and there are no contingent liabilities resulting from this cancellation.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The Corporation has to date, financed its development stage by the sale of common stock. At December 31, 2002, the Corporation had 18,722,000 shares of common stock outstanding. During the period ended December 31, 2002, the Corporation issued 293,333 shares for $38,500. Cash on hand at December 31, 2002 was $1,005, which is held at the Bank of America in Los Angeles, California.

The Corporation recognizes that it will continue to need additional cash during the next twelve months. There is no assurance that the Corporation will be able to obtain additional capital as required, or obtain the capital on terms and conditions acceptable to it.

The Corporation does not have sufficient cash to finance its operations at this stage of its development and is seeking additional financing on acceptable terms and conditions.

The Corporation has no current plans for research and development nor does the Corporation plan on retaining or hiring any additional employees or consultants. There are no plans by the Corporation to purchase or to sell any fixed assets.

INFLATION

Inflation has not been a factor during the six months ending December 31, 2002. While inflationary forces are moderately higher than in 2001, the actual inflation is immaterial and is not considered a factor in any contemplated capital expenditure program.

PART II OTHER INFORMATION

Changes in Securities and Use of Proceeds

The Corporation had 18,722,000 shares of common stock issued and outstanding as of December 31, 2002. Of these shares approximately 9,835,000 can only be resold in compliance with Rule 144 limitations, adopted under the Securities Act of 1933 (the Securities Act).

In General, under Rule 144, a person who has beneficially owned shares privately acquired directly or indirectly from us or from one of our affiliates, for at least one year, or who is an affiliate, is entitled to sell, within any three-month period, a number of shares that do not exceed the greater of 1% of the then outstanding shares or the average weekly trading volume in our shares during the four calendar weeks immediately preceding such sale. Sales under Rule 144 are also subject to certain manner of sale provisions, notice requirements and the availability of current public information about us. A person who is not deemed to have been an affiliate at any time during the 90 days preceding the sale, and who has beneficially owned restricted shares for at least two years, is entitled to sell all such shares under Rule 144 without regard to the volume limitations, current public information requirements, manner of sale provisions or notice requirements.

The issuances discussed under this section are exempted from registration under Rule 504 of the Securities Act (Rule 504) or Section 4 (2) of the Securities Act (Section 4 (2)), as provided. All purchasers of the following securities acquired the shares for investment purposes only and all stock certificates reflect the appropriate legends. No underwriters were involved in connection with the sale of securities referred to in this section.

Common Stock

In the three-month period ending December 31, 2002, the Corporation issued 725,000 shares of common stock at a value of $7,250 for services pursuant to Section 4 (2) to five individuals.

Options

No options were granted during the three month period ending December 31,2002
