PETROBRAS ENERGIA PARTICIPACIONES S.A.

ACQUISITION OF INTEREST IN

SIERRA CHATA AND PARVA NEGRA ASSETS

Buenos Aires, March 1st, 2007 - Petrobras Energía Participaciones S.A. (Buenos Aires: PBE, NYSE: PZE), controlling company of Petrobras Energía S.A. (Buenos Aires: PESA), announces that Petrobras Energía S.A. acquired from ConocoPhillips (NYSE:COP) its 25.67% and 52.37% interest in Sierra Chata and Parva Negra assets, respectively. The acquisition price is US$77.6 million. The acquisition was structured through the purchase of Burlington Resources Argentina Holdings Limited, a company organized in Bermuda and holder of the interest

mentioned above.

Prior to this acquisition, Petrobras Energía S.A. already had an interest in and was the operator of both assets. As a result of this acquisition, Petrobras Energía S.A.'s interest in Sierra Chata and Parva Negra increased to 45.5523% and 100%, respectively.

Sierra Chata is a natural gas producing field in the Neuquén Basin, with total proved reserves (according to the Securities and Exchange Commission Regulations) of 56 million barrels of oil equivalent as of December 31, 2006, and with significant probable and possible reserves. Sales volumes of natural gas in 2006 were 2.8 million cubic meters per day.

Parva Negra is a lot adjacent on the north to Sierra Chata block having two drilled wells with natural gas shows. The lot potential will be assessed during 2007 through 420 km<sup>2</sup> of 3D seismic works and drilling of step out wells.

This acquisition, in line with the Company's strategic objective to grow in oil and gas production, accounts for an increase in interest in two gas assets with high growth potential, for which Petrobras Energía S.A. already has the relevant experience and know-how both in technical and natural gas marketing terms.
