- (i) Reflects the elimination of the historical operations of 695 Route 46 prior to its contribution into a real estate joint venture on March 14, 2003. Also reflects the Company's share of the joint venture's income prior to the contribution based on (1) the property's historical operations for the period presented, (2) the property's depreciation expense as derived from the joint venture's acquisition costs and (3) the interest expense of the joint venture as derived from the terms of the mortgage loan used to acquire the property from the Company.

(ii) Reflects the effects of the Series C Preferred Unit Repurchase for the period prior to the repurchase on June 16, 2003. Upon completion of the repurchase, the Company recognized a nonrecurring $11,224 reduction to net income available to common shareholders associated with the excess of the repurchase price over the sum of the recorded book value of the units and the accrued and unpaid return to the unitholder at the time of the repurchase. This reduction to net income available to common shareholders, in turn, decreased the Company's earnings per share basic and earnings per share diluted. The pro forma condensed consolidated statements of operations, including the historical and pro forma earnings per share basic and earnings per share diluted, do not reflect the effect of this reduction to net income available to common shareholders because the reduction is nonrecurring.

(iii) 13200 Woodland Park Drive is a newly-constructed building. The building was 47.2% operational from December 2002 through May 2003 and 100% operational thereafter. The pro forma adjustments reflect the effects of the (1) historical operations of 13200 Woodland Park Drive for the portion of the building that was operational for the period prior to its acquisition and (2) amortization to rental revenue for the period prior to its acquisition of value associated with in-place operating leases to the extent that future cash flows under the contractual leases were above or below market at the time of the acquisitions.

(iv) Reflects dividends on the Series G Preferred Shares prior to their issuance on August 11, 2003. The shares have an aggregate liquidation preference of $55,000 and pay dividends at a yearly rate of 8% of such liquidation preference.

(v) Reflects the effects of the (1) historical operations of the Dulles Tech/Ridgeview Properties prior to their acquisition and (2) amortization to rental revenue for the period prior to the acquisition of value associated with in-place operating leases to the extent that future cash flows under the contractual leases were above or below market at the time of acquisition.

(vi) Reflects the effects of the (1) historical operations of Gateway 67 prior to the acquisition of the joint venture partner's interest and (2) reversal of the Company's share of the losses recorded under the equity method of accounting prior to the acquisition of the joint venture partner's interest.

(vii) NBP 140 is a newly constructed building that was placed into service in late December 2003. The pro forma adjustments reflect the effects of the historical operations of the building prior to the acquisition of the joint venture partner's interest. No income was recorded under the equity method of accounting prior to the acquisition of the joint venture partner's interest since all income was allocable to the joint venture partner under the terms of the joint venture's operating agreement.

(C) Reflects the effects of the (i) historical operations of 400 Professional Drive for the period presented, (ii) increase of $155 to reflect pro forma straight-line rental revenue adjustments and (iii) decrease of $31 to rental revenue for the amortization for the period presented of value associated with in-place operating leases to the extent that future cash flows under the contractual leases are above or below market at the time of the acquisition. The property's rental revenue for 2003 includes $3,119 in revenue from the early termination of a lease. Since it is not unusual for owners of real estate to earn such revenue, it is considered to be recurring in nature. The inclusion of this revenue significantly increased pro forma consolidated net income from continuing operations available to common shareholders and pro forma diluted earnings per common share.

(D) Reflects the effects of the (i) historical operations of the Wildewood Properties for the period presented, (ii) increase of $23 to reflect pro forma straight-line rental revenue adjustments and (iii) decrease of $65 to rental revenue for the amortization for the period presented of value associated with in-place operating leases to the extent that future cash flows under the contractual leases are above or below market at the time of the acquisition. ..

(E) Pro forma adjustments for additional interest expense resulting from property acquisitions and the Series C Preferred Unit Repurchase are set forth below. Pro forma adjustments are also set forth below for decreases in historical interest expense resulting from property dispositions and other transactions reported herein involving debt repayment. The pro forma adjustments below associated with the Bankers Trust Revolving Credit Facility (carrying interest at a variable rate of LIBOR plus 175 basis points), the Wachovia Revolving Credit Facility (carrying interest at a variable rate of LIBOR plus 140 basis points) and other variable rate loans were computed using the weighted average of the rates in effect for the applicable pro forma periods. Pro forma deferred financing cost amortization adjustments are reflected assuming such costs are amortized over the lives of the related loans.

The pro forma adjustments above reflect an aggregate increase to interest expense. The aggregate pro forma increase to interest expense would increase by an additional $123 for the year ended December 31, 2003 if interest rates on variable-rate debt were 1/8th of a percentage point higher.

The pro forma adjustments resulting from acquisition activity were computed primarily using the effects of initial debt incurred for such acquisitions; such adjustments do not reflect the effect of subsequent changes to the Company's debt, including activity to refinance initially incurred debt. If the pro forma adjustments reflected subsequent refinancings with debt secured by the properties acquired above, the aggregate pro forma interest expense would increase by an additional $509 for the year ended December 31, 2003. In addition, if the pro forma adjustments reflected the effects of other changes to the Company's debt, the aggregate increase to interest expense could be higher.

(F) Pro forma depreciation expense adjustments are reflected on acquisitions based on (i) the portion of the acquisition costs attributable to the building depreciated over a useful life of 40 years and (ii) the value of tenant improvements associated with in-place operating leases depreciated over the remaining lives of the leases. Pro forma amortization expense adjustments are reflected on acquisitions based on (i) the value of leasing costs associated with the remaining term of in-place operating leases amortized over the remaining lives of the leases and (ii) the tenant value associated with acquiring a built-in revenue stream on leased buildings amortized over the estimated amount of time that the associated tenants are expected to remain in the buildings. Pro forma depreciation and amortization expense adjustments on dispositions are reflected based on historical amounts.
