During her term at ASIC, Jillian was instrumental in policy formulation and its practical implications in financial markets. She is also a Director of the ASX. Currently, Jillian is Chairman of the Australian Banking & Financial Services Ombudsman Board, a position from which she will be resigning.

The appointments are in addition to the announcement on 11 August of two new executive directors, Ahmed Fahour and Michael Ullmer, and the previously announced retirements, at the end of August, of Brian Clark, Ken Moss and Ed Tweddell.

Following these retirements and completion of the new appointments the total number of Board members at the National will be twelve, comprising three executive directors and nine non-executive directors.

Completes Board renewal process

Mr Kraehe said, "These appointments to the National Board follow an extensive and rigorous external search process.

"We set out to augment significantly the Board's financial expertise and experience and we believe that individually and collectively these appointments achieve that objective," he said.

"The board will now have an excellent balance of skills and experience, as well as a broad range of industries, backgrounds and cultures, and geographic locations.

"This fulfils our commitment earlier this year for fundamental renewal of the Board.

The other directors are:

Graham Kraehe, Chairman (until September 2005)

John Stewart, Group Chief Executive Officer

Michael Ullmer, Group Chief Financial Officer

Ahmed Fahour, Chief Executive Officer Australia

Edgar Filing: NATIONAL AUSTRALIA BANK LTD - Form 6-K

These Board appointments clear the way for the National to focus on maximising the potential of its operations and delivering superior returns to all its stakeholders.

I would like to take the opportunity to thank Brian Clark, Ken Moss and Ed Tweddell, who retire at the end of August from the Board, for their years of service and contributions. We wish them well with their future pursuits, Mr Kraehe said.
