PRESIDENT'S LETTER

July 2007

Fellow Shareholders:

After a flat first quarter, the stock market advanced in the second quarter and recaptured the momentum that it showed throughout the second half of 2006. The widely followed S&P 500 Index gained 6.3 percent for the quarter, while the growth-oriented NASDAQ Composite Index advanced an even stronger 7.7 percent. The S&P 500 set a new record high during the quarter, finally breaking its previous record set in March 2000 on May 30. The quarter played out as a classic example of a strong stock market climbing a wall of worry.

Certainly, there was plenty to worry about, most of it emanating from higher interest rates. Much of the fallout was related to subprime loans. As interest rates rose, many adjustable rate mortgages were reset to higher rates, raising payments for borrowers and thus increasing the likelihood that defaults would rise. If severe enough, the problem was viewed as one that could spill over to the broader economy. Indeed, in June foreclosures ran 87 percent above the rate of June 2006.

Those rising interest rates were a source of concern to financial markets, as well. Rates on the benchmark 10-year Treasury hit a five-year intraday high of 5.3 percent in June. The Federal Reserve left its key Fed funds rate unchanged at 5.25 percent at its June meeting, but the Federal Open Market Committee is still concerned about potential inflationary pressures, and appears ready to raise short-term interest rates if that were to occur. There were also fears that rising rates might undercut the record-setting pace of merger and acquisition activity as plentiful liquidity has encouraged acquirers particularly private equity firms to leverage their deals.

Liberty All-Star Equity Fund posted a strong quarter, comfortably outperforming its comparable benchmarks. The Fund rose 8.6 percent with shares valued at net asset value (NAV) and 8.7 percent with shares valued at NAV with dividends reinvested. In terms of the Fund's market price return, it rose 8.4 percent for the quarter. The Fund's quarterly performance ranked it in the 8th percentile of the Lipper Large-Cap Core Mutual Fund Average, meaning that it outperformed 92 percent of peer funds in that universe.

Year to date through June 30, shares valued at NAV are ahead 9.2 percent, and 9.3 percent with shares valued at NAV with dividends reinvested. In terms of the Fund's market price return year to date, it is ahead 14.1 percent. In terms of peer ranking year to date, the Fund's NAV with dividends reinvested return is in the 11th percentile (ahead of 89 percent of funds with similar investment style).

Looking more closely, over the quarter stocks in the Russell 3000 Growth Index outperformed stocks in the Russell 3000 Value Index by the widest margin since the first quarter of 2003. As shareholders know, 40 percent of the Fund's assets are allocated to growth style managers. Value style stocks have consistently outperformed growth stocks for many years, so it is good to see better balance returning to the market. In fact, with all the risks in the market—as described earlier in this letter—we are seeing investors emphasize not just growth but quality growth, which plays to the Fund's emphasis on quality.

Our interview this quarter is with one of our value style managers, David Katz, CFA, President and Chief Investment Officer of Matrix Asset Advisors. Mentioning the performance relationship between value and growth stocks, Matrix's relative value strategy enables the firm to invest beyond traditional value industries. To see how, I urge you to read the interview that begins on page 7.

We are encouraged that the stock market posted a solid second quarter. And we are most pleased that the Fund's results have more than kept pace. In a stock market facing so many cross currents, we believe—as we have said in the past—that the best path forward is to pursue the Fund's investment objectives and consistently adhere to its investment strategy and process.

Sincerely,

William R. Parmentier, Jr.

President and Chief Executive Officer

* The Fund's net investment income and net realized capital gains exceeded the amount to be distributed under the Fund's 10 percent distribution policy. In each case, the Fund elected to pay taxes on the undistributed income and passed through a proportionate tax credit to shareholders.

 The number of shares offered was increased by an additional 25% to cover a portion of the over-subscription requests.

DISTRIBUTION POLICY - Liberty All-Star Equity Fund's current policy, in effect since 1988, is to pay distributions on its shares totaling approximately 10 percent of its net asset value per year, payable in four quarterly installments of 2.5 percent of the Fund's net asset value at the close of the New York Stock Exchange on the Friday prior to each quarterly declaration date. The fixed distributions are not related to the amount of the Fund's net investment income or net realized capital gains or losses and may be taxed as ordinary income up to the amount of the Fund's current and accumulated earnings and profits. If, for any calendar year, the total distributions made under the 10 percent pay-out policy exceed the Fund's net investment income and net realized capital gains, the excess will generally be treated as a non-taxable return of capital, reducing the shareholder's adjusted basis in his or her shares. If the Fund's net investment income and net realized capital gains for any year exceed the amount distributed under the 10 percent pay-out policy, the Fund may, in its discretion, retain and not distribute net realized capital gains and pay income tax thereon to the extent of such excess. The Fund retained such excess gains in 1993, 1996 and 1997.

DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT PLAN - Through the Fund's Automatic Dividend Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan, the Fund's shareholders have the opportunity to have their dividends automatically reinvested in additional shares of the Fund. Participants are kept apprised of the status of their account through quarterly statements.

LIBERTY ALL-STAR® EQUITY FUND

MANAGER INTERVIEW

David A. Katz, CFA

President and Chief

Investment Officer

Matrix Asset

Advisors, Inc.

Matrix constructs portfolios with an optimal balance of diversification and concentration

Matrix Asset Advisors, Inc. employs an opportunistic value-oriented investment philosophy. Matrix believes that value can be found in all sectors of the economy, and thus looks for investment opportunities beyond traditional value industries. The firm follows a systematic and rigorous investment process using both quantitative and qualitative analysis and adheres to a strict sell discipline. We recently had the opportunity to interview the firm's President and Chief Investment Officer, David A. Katz. The Fund's Investment Adviser, ALPS Advisors, Inc., moderated the interview.

What's your take on the first half of the year? After a flattish first quarter (+0.6 percent for the S&P 500), the market posted a strong second quarter (+6.3 percent including a new record high for the same S&P 500).

Most of the year has played out as we thought it would. The overall equity environment is favorable, we think valuations are pretty reasonable, the economy continues to muddle along, and although there's a question about what the Federal Reserve will do in the upcoming months and quarters, we think the vast majority of the interest rate increase cycle is behind us. All of that, coupled with a great deal of liquidity in the market and a high level of merger and acquisition activity, has given the market a positive bias.

because value has done so well in the last half-dozen years and because growth has done so poorly, a lot of growth stocks started to meet our valuation criteria.

The one thing that has not happened that we thought would occur is a continuation of mega-cap companies recapturing some of their lost luster. Our very strong sense is that this is a speed bump rather than a change in direction. Mega-caps were strong in the second half of 2006 and that made '06 the first year in a long time that the large caps and mega-caps were either on a par with the small and mid-sized companies or actually a little ahead. While the underlying environment and the outlook for the group have gotten a lot better in the first six months of this year, mega-cap stocks haven't kept pace and wound up lagging the small and mid-sized capitalization range of the market.

Growth outperformed value this quarter. Matrix is not exactly a traditional value manager, so whichever style is in favor may not make much of a difference to you. Is that true?

Actually, we are very well positioned for growth coming back into favor. We are a value manager, we look at the world through value glasses and we always pay attention to fundamentals and what a business is worth. Traditionally, we are helped by a value market. That said, however, because value has done so well in the last half-dozen years and because growth has done so poorly, a lot of growth stocks started to meet our valuation criteria. So, if you look at our portfolio today, we are very heavily weighted toward the fallen growth angels of the past. These are wonderful businesses with great records that in 1999 were selling at 35 to 40 times earnings. Today, they're selling at about 13 to 15 times earnings. So, our sense going into the year was that growth would start to do better on both an absolute and relative basis. You're seeing the very early signs of that and that plays very well to the portfolio's positioning.

from an economic standpoint, the U.S. is slowing while international markets are showing economic strength. That makes mega-cap multinational companies good places to invest.

You mentioned the fallen angels when we spoke for the annual report roundtable. So, it seems you are still finding some of your more attractive opportunities among those stocks.

Basically, we think that the fallen angels and the mega-cap growth companies are doing very well on the business front, yet the majority of these stocks have not done anything. So, the fact that they've had a mediocre first six months of the year just gives us even greater confidence in the outlook for the balance of the year and into next. Companies like American International Group, Citigroup, Wal-Mart, and Comcast are great businesses with very strong fundamentals whose stocks haven't done anything. In addition, if you look at where we are from an economic standpoint, the U.S. is slowing while international markets are showing economic strength. That makes mega-cap multinational companies good places to invest.

To what extent do you factor in macro or top-down considerations into your investment process, or is it solely a fundamentally-driven, bottom-up process?

We are a bottom-up, fundamental manager. The first step in our investment process is quantitative analysis that whittles a universe of 1,500 companies down to 100 or so attractive businesses. Then, we turn to qualitative and fundamental analysis to evaluate that group stock by stock. One facet of our fundamental analysis is a catalyst assessment in which we take into consideration any macro factors that may enter in. But macro factors don't drive the investment decision. So, for example, when we talk about the mega-cap companies we believe that they've become timelier because their fundamentals are more attractive at the same time you've got a slowdown in the fundamentals of mid-sized companies. That makes mega-caps more compelling on a relative basis.

Your portfolios are usually fairly concentrated both in number of holdings and in sector exposure. Is that a reflection of conviction, a better way to add value or to avoid looking like an index?

We're great believers that you get your best investment returns by having a focused portfolio—diversified, yet focused on your best ideas. The optimal portfolio diversification that we found, in terms of risk and return, comes from having 30 to 40 stocks. That way, you're diversifying your risk from any given name, but you really can focus on the stocks that you like best. So, it really is a stock picker's portfolio. We invest our own money right in our portfolio as we're all clients of the firm. We happen to believe that if most money managers have their druthers they would prefer to invest in a 30- to 45-stock portfolio. But, many are constrained simply because their firms are too big and they've got to buy 100 to 200 stocks simply to put all that money to work.

We're great believers that you get your best investment returns by having a focused portfolio — diversified, yet focused on your best ideas.

What's a recent addition to the portion of the Liberty All-Star equity Fund that you manage ... and what's a recent liquidation from the portfolio?

We recently added Covidien, Ltd. To the portfolio in a fairly meaningful way. The company is a spin-out from Tyco International, Ltd., which split into three pieces: Covidien, Tyco Electronics and Tyco International, Ltd. We like all of the pieces but we like Covidien best based on today's valuation.

Covidien is one of the nation's largest medical products companies, providing instruments, pharmaceuticals and imaging solutions. Generally, we think that the split will allow management to run the business in a much more efficient, shareholder-oriented manner. As a part of Tyco, the business had underperformed in terms of earnings and margins. Now, being a more focused company will allow management to get its act together. The compelling part of the investment case is that medical instrument companies consistently sell north of three and one-half times sales and Covidien is priced at about two times sales. So our strong sense is that as an independent company Covidien will come up and match industry valuations or will be acquired by a strategic partner. So, we look at it as a win/win.

That leads into our sale. The last time we spoke for a quarterly report interview we singled out Medimmune as a stock we liked. We thought it was a good business as an independent company, but also felt it made a great deal of sense to be owned by a larger player in the drug group. And in this last quarter Medimmune agreed to be acquired by another large healthcare company, AstraZeneca. Medimmune was one of our largest positions, and our original per-share cost was in the mid-20s. AstraZeneca paid $58 a share for the company and we sold into that strength.

Many thanks for the comments.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2007 (Unaudited)

NOTE 1. ORGANIZATION

Liberty All-Star Equity Fund (the "Fund") is a Massachusetts business trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "Act"), as amended, as a diversified, closed-end management investment company.

Investment Goal

The Fund seeks total investment return comprised of long-term capital appreciation and current income through investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of equity securities.

Fund Shares

The Fund may issue an unlimited number of shares of beneficial interest.

NOTE 2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

Security Valuation

Edgar Filing: LIBERTY ALL STAR EQUITY FUND - Form N-CSRS

Equity securities are valued at the last sale price at the close of the principal exchange on which they trade, except for securities listed on the NASDAQ, which are valued at the NASDAQ official closing price. Unlisted securities or listed securities for which there were no sales during the day are valued at the closing bid price on such exchanges or over-the-counter markets.

Debt securities generally are valued by pricing services approved by the Fund's Board of Trustees (the Board), based upon market transactions for normal, institutional size trading units of similar securities. The services may use various pricing techniques which take into account appropriate factors such as yield, quality, coupon rate, maturity, type of issue, trading characteristics and other data, as well as broker quotes. Debt securities for which quotations are readily available are valued at an over-the-counter or exchange bid quotation.

Short-term debt obligations maturing in more than 60 days for which market quotations are readily available are valued at current market value. Short-term debt obligations maturing within 60 days are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value.

Investments for which market quotations are not readily available are valued at fair value as determined in good faith under consistently applied procedures approved by and under the general supervision of the Board.

Security Transactions

Security transactions are accounted for on the trade date. Cost is determined and gains (losses) are based upon the specific identification method for both financial statement and federal income tax purposes.

Repurchase Agreements

The Fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions with institutions that the Fund's investment adviser has determined are creditworthy. The Fund, through its custodian, receives delivery of underlying securities collateralizing a repurchase agreement. Collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the value of the repurchase obligation including interest. A repurchase agreement transaction involves certain risks in the event of default or insolvency of the counterparty. These risks include possible delays or restrictions upon a Fund's ability to dispose of the underlying securities and a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the Fund seeks to assert its rights.

Income Recognition

Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Premium and discount are amortized and accreted, respectively, on all debt securities. Corporate actions and dividend income are recorded on the ex-date.

The Fund estimates components of distributions from real estate investment trusts (REITs). Distributions received in excess of income are recorded as a reduction of the cost of the related investments. If the Fund no longer owns the applicable securities, any distributions received in excess of income are recorded as realized gains.

Federal Income Tax Status

Consistent with the Fund's policy to qualify as a regulated investment company and to distribute all of its taxable income to shareholders, no federal income tax has been accrued.

Distributions to Shareholders

The Fund currently has a policy of paying distributions on its shares of beneficial interest totaling approximately 10% of its net asset value per year. The distributions are payable in four quarterly distributions of 2.5% of the Fund's net asset value at the close of the New York Stock Exchange on the Friday prior to each quarterly declaration date. Distributions to shareholders are recorded on ex-date.

Indemnification

In the normal course of business, the Fund enters into contracts that contain a variety of representations and warranties and which provide general indemnities. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims against the Fund. Also, under the Fund's organizational documents and by contract, the Trustees and Officers of the Fund are indemnified against certain liabilities that may arise out of their duties to the Fund. However, based on experience, the Fund expects the risk of loss due to these warranties and indemnities to be minimal.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In September 2006, Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157, Fair Value Measurements (SFAS 157), was issued. SFAS 157 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. SFAS 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. Management has recently begun to evaluate the impact the application of SFAS 157 will have on the Fund's financial statement disclosures.

NOTE 3. FEDERAL TAX INFORMATION

The timing and character of income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from GAAP. Reclassifications are made to the Fund's capital accounts for permanent tax differences to reflect income and gains available for distribution (or available capital loss carryforwards) under income tax regulations.

For the year ended December 31, 2006, permanent book and tax basis differences resulting primarily from differing treatments for net operating losses and excess distributions were identified and reclassified among the components of the Fund's net assets as follows:

Accumulated Net Investment Loss		Accumulated Net Realized Loss		Paid-In Capital
$	(41,944)	$	41,945		(1)

Net investment income and net realized gains (losses), as disclosed on the Statement of Operations, and net assets were not affected by this reclassification.

The tax character of distributions paid during the year ended December 31, 2006 was as follows:

Distributions paid from:
Ordinary income	$ 13,728,960
Long-term capital gain	116,914,514
	130,643,474
Return of capital	3,477,453
	$ 134,120,927

Edgar Filing: LIBERTY ALL STAR EQUITY FUND - Form N-CSRS

As of December 31, 2006, the components of distributable earnings on a tax basis were as follows:

Undistributed Ordinary Income	Undistributed Long Term CapitalGains	Net Unrealized Appreciation*
$ 0	$ 0	145,212,637

* The differences between book-basis and tax-basis net unrealized appreciation are primarily due to deferral of losses from wash sales.

NOTE 4. FEES AND COMPENSATION PAID TO AFFILIATES

Investment Advisory Fee

Under Portfolio Management Agreements, AAI pays each Portfolio Manager a portfolio management fee based on the assets of the investment portfolio that they managed. First $400 million	0.400%
Next $400 million	0.360%

Average Daily Net Assets	Annual Fee Rate

Edgar Filing: LIBERTY ALL STAR EQUITY FUND - Form N-CSRS

Prior to December 18, 2006, BAIA provided administrative and other services to the Fund under the same terms as ALPS noted above, except that BAIA's fee was based on average weekly net assets.

Further, prior to December 18, 2006, Columbia Management Advisors, LLC (Columbia), an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of BOA and an affiliate of BAIA, was responsible for providing pricing and bookkeeping services to the Fund under a pricing and bookkeeping agreement. Under a separate agreement (the Outsourcing Agreement), Columbia delegated those functions to State Street Corporation (State Street). As a result, Columbia paid State Street the total fees collected under the pricing and bookkeeping agreement.

The terms of Columbia's pricing and bookkeeping agreement were the same as the ALPS terms noted above.

Custody Credits

The Fund has an agreement with its custodian bank under which custody fees may be reduced by balance credits. These credits are recorded as a reduction of total expenses on the Statement of Operations. The Fund could have invested a portion of the assets utilized in connection with the expense offset arrangement in an income-producing asset if it had not entered into such an agreement.

Fees Paid to Officers

All officers of the Fund are employees of AAI or its affiliates, and receive no compensation from the Fund. The Board of Trustees has appointed a Chief Compliance Officer to the Fund in accordance with federal securities regulations.

The Fund has delegated to ALPS Advisors, Inc. (the Advisor) the responsibility to vote proxies relating to portfolio securities held by the Fund. In deciding to delegate this responsibility to the Advisor, the Fund's Board reviewed and approved the policies and procedures adopted by the Advisor. These included the procedures that the Advisor follows when a vote presents a conflict between the interests of the Fund and its shareholders and the Advisor, its affiliates, its other clients or other persons.

The Fund has delegated to ALPS Advisors, Inc. (the Advisor) the responsibility to vote proxies relating to 50 portfolio

The Advisor's policy is to vote all proxies for Fund securities in a manner considered by the Advisor to be in the best interest of the Fund and its shareholders without regard to any benefit to the Advisor, its affiliates, its other clients or other persons. The Advisor or an affiliate examines each proposal and votes against the proposal, if, in its judgment, approval or adoption of the proposal would be expected to impact adversely the current or potential market value of the issuer's securities. The Advisor or an affiliate also examines each proposal and votes the proxies against the proposal, if, in its judgment, the proposal would be expected to affect adversely the best interest of the Fund. The Advisor or an affiliate determines the best interest of the Fund in light of the potential economic return on the Fund's investment.

The Advisor addresses potential material conflicts of interest by having predetermined voting guidelines. For those proposals that require special consideration or in instances where special circumstances may require varying from the predetermined guideline, a Proxy Committee determines the vote in the best interest of the Fund, without consideration of any benefit to the Advisor, its affiliates, its other clients or other persons. The Proxy Committee is composed of representatives of equity investments, equity research, compliance, legal and fund administration functions. In addition to the responsibilities described above, the Proxy Committee has the responsibility to review, on a semi-annual basis, the Advisor's proxy voting policies to ensure consistency with internal and regulatory agency policies and to develop additional predetermined voting guidelines to assist in the review of proxy proposals.

The Proxy Committee may vary from a predetermined guideline if it determines that voting on the proposal according to the predetermined guideline would be expected to impact adversely the current or potential market value of the issuer's securities or to affect adversely the best interest of the client. References to the best interest of a client refer to the interest of the client in terms of the potential economic return on the client's investment. In determining the vote on any proposal, the Proxy Committee does not consider any benefit other than benefits to the owner of the securities to be voted. A member of the Proxy Committee is prohibited from voting on any proposal for which he or she has a conflict of interest by reason of a direct relationship with the issuer or other party affected by a given proposal. Persons making recommendations to the Proxy Committee or its members are required to disclose to the Committee any relationship with a party making a proposal or other matter known to the person that would create a potential conflict of interest.

The Advisor has retained Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS), a third party vendor, to implement its proxy voting process. ISS provides proxy analysis, record keeping services and vote disclosure services.
