Item 8.01

Other Events.

On August 3, 2018, Intercontinental Exchange, Inc. announced its plans to form a new company, Bakkt, with the goal of establishing a global platform for digital assets. Bakkt intends to work with BCG, Microsoft and Starbucks, among others, to create an integrated platform designed to enable consumers and institutions to buy, sell, store and spend digital assets on a seamless global network. Seeking to address evolving needs in the growing digital asset marketplace, Bakkt's platform aims to include federally regulated markets and warehousing along with merchant and consumer applications, and is expected to first support Bitcoin. As an initial component of the Bakkt offering, Intercontinental Exchange's U.S.-based futures exchange and clearing house plan to launch a 1-day physically delivered Bitcoin contract along with physical warehousing in November 2018, subject to CFTC review and approval. These regulated venues will establish new protocols for managing the specific security and settlement requirements of digital currencies. In addition, the clearing house plans to create a separate guarantee fund that will be funded by Bakkt. Bakkt is currently in preparation for launch, and is in discussions with regulators and in the process of finalizing definitive agreements with select partners. ICE currently expects that further operational details will be announced when available.
