Edgar Filing: MITSUI & CO LTD - Form 6-K

Percentage figures for Total trading transactions, Revenue-gross trading profit, Income from continuing operations before income taxes, minority interests and equity in earnings, and Net income for the six-month period represent changes from the corresponding six-month period of the previous year.

5. Parentheses represent negative figures or decreases.
6. Total trading transactions is a voluntary disclosure and represents the gross transaction volume or the nominal aggregate value of the sales contracts in which Mitsui & Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries(the companies) act as principal and transactions in which the companies serve as agent.

Total trading transactions is not meant to represent sales or revenues in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

The companies have included the information concerning total trading transactions because it is used by similar Japanese trading companies as an industry benchmark, and the companies believe it is a useful supplement to results of operations data as a measure of the companies' performance compared to other similar Japanese trading companies. Total trading transactions is included in the measure of segment profit and loss reviewed by the chief operating decision maker.

7. In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets, the figures for the six-month period ended September 30, 2002 and for the year ended March 31, 2003 relating to discontinued operations have been reclassified.
8. In consideration of a consensus relating to the presentation of gains and losses on derivative instruments held for trading purposes by the Emerging Issues Task Force under U.S. GAAP, all gains and losses on forward contracts held by certain foreign subsidiaries for trading purposes for crude oil and oil products, which are also derivatives, are shown net in Total trading transactions effective April 1, 2003. In relation to this change, the figures for the six-month period ended September 30, 2002 and for the year ended March 31, 2003 have been restated.

Highlights of operating results for the six-month period ended September 30, 2003

Total trading transactions:

Total trading transactions for the six-month period ended September 30, 2003 increased ¥490.9 billion to ¥5,949.9 billion, which is mainly attributable to:

the increase of industrial plants and ocean transport vessels exported in the Machinery, Electronics & Information Segment;

the increase of LNG transaction volume in the Energy Segment; and higher overall market prices for petrochemicals in the Chemical Segment.

See page 1 for an explanation of Total trading transactions.

Revenue gross trading profit rose ¥18.9 billion to ¥293.6 billion, due to the contribution by newly consolidated subsidiaries and the increase of total trading transactions in the Chemical Segment and Machinery, Electronics & Information Segment.

Selling, general and administrative (SGA) expense increased ¥19.0 billion to ¥239.8 billion. This increase is attributable to newly consolidated subsidiaries and the increase of severance cost in the parent company.

Provision for doubtful receivables decreased ¥2.7 billion to ¥3.6 billion. This decrease was due to a significant provision recorded in the previous period for the customers in Latin America reflecting weak economic conditions and the deterioration of the business environment in the airline industry in the United States.

Other expense net increased ¥7.9 billion to ¥11.7 billion due to the settlement of antitrust lawsuit in the United States. Loss on write-down of securities decreased ¥4.4 billion to ¥6.6 billion.

As a result of the above, income from continuing operations before income taxes, minority interests and equity in earnings increased ¥4.3 billion to ¥38.8 billion.

Equity in earnings of associated companies net (after income tax effect) increased ¥4.3 billion to ¥16.1 billion, due to continuously strong performance in overseas energy and mineral resources related associated companies, despite the decrease in a food related associated company in the United States. In addition, we had recognized the impairment of goodwill on an investment in a domestic IT related associated company due to a sharp decline in its stock price in the previous period.

As a result of these developments, net income increased ¥1.0 billion to ¥25.8 billion, after the deduction of net loss of ¥1.0 billion from discontinued operations and net loss of the cumulative effect of applying SFAS No. 143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligation of ¥2.3 billion.

Table of Contents

Operating segments information

Total trading transactions, Revenue gross trading profit and net income by operating segments for the six-month period of this year are given below.

See page 1 for an explanation of Total trading transactions.

(1) Metal Products & Minerals Segment

Total trading transactions increased ¥71.3 billion to ¥1,004.4 billion, reflecting steady growth in the export of steel products and the offshore transactions of iron ore. Revenue gross trading profit rose ¥2.7 billion to ¥37.2 billion, because the transaction of iron ore, steel scraps and non-ferrous metals in overseas subsidiaries showed firm performance. Net income increased ¥2.6 billion to ¥9.9 billion, due to gain on sale of securities of an iron ore related associated company and the contribution of equity in earnings from other overseas mineral resources associated companies.

(2) Machinery, Electronics & Information Segment

Total trading transactions increased ¥161.7 billion to ¥1,278.8 billion due to the increased transactions of industrial plants and ocean transport vessels, and the automobile related subsidiaries newly transferred from the Europe Segment in order to integrate them in this segment. Revenue gross trading profit rose ¥8.9 billion to ¥63.3 billion mainly due to the increase of the transactions of industrial plant and automobile, and the decrease in a overseas aircraft leasing company. Net income increased by ¥17.8 billion to ¥9.1 billion because in the previous period, this segment reported an impairment of leased aircrafts, provision for doubtful receivables related to weak economic conditions in some Latin America countries and to aircraft financing, and the impairment of an investment in a domestic IT related associated company due to a sharp decline in its stock price.

(3) Chemical Segment

Total trading transactions increased ¥126.3 billion to ¥802.4 billion, reflecting higher overall market prices for petrochemicals compared to the previous period, and the contribution by the subsidiaries consolidated from this period. Revenue gross trading profit rose ¥11.3 billion to ¥39.3 billion, mainly in proportion to the increase of total trading transactions. The settlement of an antitrust lawsuit in the United States occurred in this period. Net income increased by ¥7.2 billion to ¥5.6 billion, because this segment experienced a material loss on discontinued operations and the impairment on production facilities due to prolonged deterioration in the markets of ammonia and other petrochemical materials in the previous period.

(4) Energy Segment

Total trading transactions rose ¥138.5 billion to ¥652.6 billion mainly due to the increase of LNG transaction volume. The parent company and domestic subsidiaries earned the same level as the same period last year nevertheless revenue gross trading profit decreased ¥2.5 billion to ¥24.8 billion because of the decline in the trading in crude oil and petroleum products in overseas subsidiaries. Net income decreased ¥2.9 billion to ¥10.2 billion, which is partly attributable to the cumulative effect of applying SFAS No. 143.

(5) Consumer Products & Services Segment

Total trading transactions rose ¥16.5 billion to ¥1,101.1 billion because of the expansion in market categories in domestic food related subsidiaries and the contribution of newly acquired food related subsidiaries. Revenue gross trading profit increased ¥4.3 billion to ¥54.7 billion, reflecting the growth in total trading transactions and the strong performance in the condominium apartment business. Net income slightly increased ¥1.0 billion to ¥5.2 billion because the improvement in Revenue gross trading profit was offset by the increase of SGA expense of those newly acquired subsidiaries and the decline in equity in earning from a food related associated company in the United States.

(6) Domestic Branches and Offices Segment

Total trading transactions declined ¥7.4 billion to ¥849.3 billion mainly due to continuing lower domestic demand. Revenue gross trading profit also decreased by ¥1.1 billion to ¥19.8 billion in proportion to the decrease in total trading transactions. Meantime, net income increased ¥2.9 billion to ¥6.4 billion due to the decline in SGA expense and the improvement in interest expense, net of interest income.

(7) Americas Segment

Total trading transactions increased ¥48.1 billion to ¥651.9 billion mainly due to the increase of the transaction in an energy-trading subsidiary. Revenue gross trading profit declined ¥1.4 billion to ¥20.9 billion due to the decline in steel products and machinery business in a trading subsidiary located in the United States despite the increase in the energy-trading subsidiary. Net income declined ¥2.5 billion to net loss of ¥0.1 billion mainly attributable to the antitrust lawsuit settlement.

(8) Europe Segment

Total trading transactions rose ¥45.2 billion to ¥326.1 billion. This is because the transactions of crude oil and non-ferrous metals in a trading subsidiary located in the United Kingdom increased while this increase was partly offset by the transfer of automotive related subsidiaries to the Machinery, Electronics & Information Segment as part of the reorganization of automobile business in Europe. Revenue gross trading profit declined ¥2.1 billion to ¥9.1 billion in proportion to the decrease in total trading transactions. Net income declined ¥0.9 billion to ¥0.4 billion, due to the impairment of securities of a chemical related associated company and the decline in the performance of trading of an energy related trading subsidiary.

(9) Other Overseas Areas Segment

Total trading transactions rose ¥4.3 billion to ¥686.0 billion mainly due to the increase of the transactions of steel products and chemical products in a trading subsidiary located in Hong Kong. Revenue gross trading profit of ¥11.6 remained almost the same level as the previous period. Net income increased by ¥0.9 billion to ¥4.0 billion mainly due to the increase of dividend income, which a trading subsidiary located in Hong Kong received.

Basis of Financial Statements and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(Unaudited)

I. Basis of Financial Statements

The accompanying unaudited semi-annual consolidated financial statements of Mitsui & Co., Ltd. (the Company) and its subsidiaries (collectively, the companies) have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S.GAAP).

II. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(1) Inventories

Inventories, consisting mainly of commodities and materials for resale, are stated at the lower of cost, principally on the specific-identification basis, or market.

(2) Debt and marketable equity securities

The companies classify debt and marketable equity securities, at acquisition, into one of three categories: held-to-maturity, available-for-sale or trading under provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 115, Accounting for Certain Investments in Debt and Equity Securities.

Trading securities are carried at fair value and unrealized holding gains and losses are included in net income.

Debt securities are classified as held-to-maturity and measured at amortized cost in the Consolidated Balance Sheets only if the companies have the positive intent and ability to hold those securities to maturity. Premiums and discounts amortized in the period are included in interest expense, net of interest income.

Debt and marketable equity securities other than those classified as trading or held-to-maturity securities are classified as available-for-sale securities and carried at fair value with such unrealized holding gains and losses reported as Unrealized holding gains and losses on available-for-sale securities in the Shareholders Equity after income tax effects.

(3) Depreciation

Depreciation of property and equipment (including property leased to others) is computed principally under the declining-balance method for assets located in Japan and under the straight-line method for assets located outside Japan, using rates based upon the estimated useful lives of the related property.

(4) Pension and severance indemnities plans

The companies have pension plans and/or severance indemnities plans covering substantially all employees other than directors. The costs of the pension plans and severance indemnities plans are accrued based on amounts determined using actuarial methods in accordance with SFAS No. 87, Employers Accounting for Pensions.

(5) Derivative instruments and hedging activities

All derivative instruments are recognized and measured at fair value as either assets or liabilities and changes in the fair value are currently recognized in earnings or reported as Net unrealized gains and losses on delivatives in Shareholders Equity after income tax effects, depending on the intended use of the derivative instruments and its resulting hedge designation.

(6) Business combinations and intangible assets

Under provisions of SFAS No. 141, Business Combinations and SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, all business combinations are accounted for using the purchase method, and goodwill acquired upon business combinations and indefinite-lived intangible assets are tested for impairment annually or more frequently if impairment indicators arise.

(7) Discontinued operations

The companies present the results of discontinued operations (including operations of a subsidiary that either has been disposed of or is classified as held for sale) as a separate line item in the Statements of Consolidated Income under Loss from Discontinued Operations Net (After Income Tax Effect) in accordance with SFAS No. 144. The amounts in the Statements of Consolidated Income and the Statements of Consolidated Cash Flows for the previous periods have been reclassified.

(8) Asset retirement obligations

On April 1, 2003, the companies adopted SFAS No. 143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations. SFAS No. 143 requires entities to record a liability for an asset retirement obligation at fair value in the period in which it is incurred. When the liability is initially recorded, the entity capitalizes the related cost by increasing the carrying amount of the long-lived asset. Over time, the liability is accreted to its present value each period, and the capitalized cost is depreciated over the useful life of the related asset.

The companies recognized the cumulative effect of initially applying SFAS No. 143 as a separate line item in the Statements of Consolidated Income under Cumulative Effect of Change in Accounting Principle (After Income Tax Effect), which represents the difference between the amounts recognized in the Consolidated Balance Sheets prior to the application of SFAS No. 143 and the net amount that is recognized in the Consolidated Balance Sheets pursuant to provisions of SFAS No. 143 for the asset retirement obligations and related costs as of April 1, 2003.

(9) Derivative contracts held for trading purposes and contracts involved in energy trading and risk management activities

In consideration of a consensus relating to the presentation of gains and losses on derivative instruments held for trading purposes under the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force No. 02-3, Issues Involved in Accounting for Derivative Contracts Held for Trading Purposes and Contracts Involved in Energy Trading and Risk Management Activities, all gains and losses on forward contracts held by certain foreign subsidiaries for trading purposes for crude oil and oil products, which are also derivatives, are shown net in Total trading transactions effective April 1, 2003. In relation to this change, the Statements of Consolidated Income for the six-month period ended September 30, 2002 and for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003 have been restated.

(10) Cash and cash equivalents

On April 1, 2003, the companies changed their accounting policy concerning which items are treated as cash equivalents in the Consolidated Balance Sheets and the Statements of Consolidated Cash Flows. Cash and cash equivalents formerly included cash, certificates of deposit and time deposits with original maturities of three months or less. In addition to the above, the companies decided to include financing bills and commercial papers with original maturities of three months or less, which are readily convertible into cash and have no significant risk of change in value, in cash equivalents. This change reflects the recent change to the companies' short-term cash management policies and has been made to more fairly present their financial position and cash flows.

In relation to this change, the amounts in the Consolidated Balance Sheets and the Statements of Consolidated Cash Flows for the prior periods have been restated. As a result of this restatement, cash and cash equivalents increased by ¥32,998 million and ¥34,597 million and marketable securities decreased by the same amounts in the Consolidated Balance Sheets as of September 30, 2002 and March 31, 2003, respectively. Also, net cash provided by or used in investing activities increased by ¥7,402 million and ¥9,000 million in the Statements of Consolidated Cash Flows for the six-month period ended September 30, 2002 and the year ended March 31, 2003, respectively.

In addition, cash and cash equivalents increased by ¥111,497 million and marketable securities decreased by the same amount in the Consolidated Balance Sheets as of September 30, 2003, and net cash used in investing activities decreased by ¥76,900 million in the Statements of Consolidated Cash Flows for the six-month period ended September 30, 2003, compared with the amounts based on the previous accounting policy.
