"Additional Factors" in this release. Generally, these forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "anticipate", "believe", "estimate", "expect", "intend", "project", "should", and similar expressions. Forward-looking statements in this release include, among other things, the discussions of our business outlook and expected performance, our revenue target, our subscriber target, our estimates for capital expenditures, our EBITDA margin target and our dividend plans. EBITDA is a non-GAAP measure that refers to income before interest income, interest expense, taxes, depreciation and amortization.

We caution you that reliance on any forward-looking statement involves risks and uncertainties, and that although we believe that the assumptions on which our forward-looking statements are based are reasonable, any of those assumptions could prove to be inaccurate, and, as a result, the forward-looking statements based on those assumptions could be incorrect. In light of these and other uncertainties, you should not conclude that we will necessarily achieve any plans and objectives or projected financial results referred to in any of the forward-looking statements. We do not undertake to release the results of any revisions of these forward-looking statements to reflect future events or circumstances.

RE : REVISED GUIDANCE FOR 2004

The following statements are current estimates and projections for 2004 reflecting management's judgment and involve a number of risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those suggested by these forward-looking statements. These forward-looking information were based on various factors and were derived utilizing numerous assumptions. Some of the assumptions and other important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those in the forward-looking information are identified below.

1. REVENUE TARGET FOR 2004: APPROXIMATELY KRW 9.8 TRILLION

The Company has previously provided guidance for its revenues for the year 2004 at approximately KRW 10.2 trillion. The Company has adjusted its expectations and now estimates its 2004 revenues to be KRW 9.8 trillion. The adjustment was caused by the changes in the underlying assumptions for the previously reported revenue guidance. Such changes were as follows:

- o The Company has adjusted its target with respect to the number of wireless subscribers in 2004 (discussed below);
- o The Company has revised its target with respect to the monthly average revenue per user ("ARPU") from KRW 46,000 to KRW 44,000 due to the reduced interconnection revenues, the contract-based discount plans and the relatively low ARPU among certain of the new subscribers compared to the existing subscribers given the mature market; and
- o The Company has been adversely affected by the changes in the policies regarding network interconnection fees among the telecommunications service providers by the Ministry of Information and Communication ("MIC").

Since the Company's previous report, the MIC has also imposed sanctions on the Company by suspending the Company from signing with new subscribers for 40 days based on its findings that the Company had provided handset subsidies. Such sanctions have also led the Company to adjust its revenue guidance for 2004.

2. SUBSCRIBER TARGET FOR 2004: APPROXIMATELY 18.7 MILLION

The Company has previously reported that its estimate for the number of new subscribers for 2004 was 18.8 million. The Company has modified its expectations and revised its guidance for the number of new subscribers to 18.7 million. The adjustment of the guidance was caused by the 40-day suspension on attracting new subscribers described above as well as the Company's policy to improve the quality of its subscriber base by disconnecting the subscribers who have been suspended due to delinquent payments.

3. EBITDA MARGIN TARGET: APPROXIMATELY 42%

The Company has also adjusted its EBITDA margin target from 47% to 42% primarily due to the new network interconnection rates set forth by the MIC and the increased marketing expenses under the new mobile number portability policy. These factors have led the Company to record an EBITDA margin of 40% during the first half. The Company believes that the impact of these factors will stabilize during the second half of 2004 and thus has adjusted the year-end EBITDA margin target to 42%.

You should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements, which are based on current expectations and speak only as of the date of this report. The Company is not obligated to publicly release any revisions to forward-looking statements to reflect events after the date of this report. The Company provides a detailed discussion of risk factors in periodic SEC filings, including its Form 20-F, and you are encouraged to review these filings.
