PETROCHINA MAINTAINS STABLE OPERATION FOR

KEY BUSINESSES IN FIRST QUARTER OF 2007

16 April 2007, placeCityBeijing - PetroChina Company Limited ("PetroChina" or the "Company," SEHK stock code 0857; NYSE symbol PTR) achieved good progress in executing its full-year plan during the first quarter of 2007. In the first three months of the year, the Company's operations proceeded as planned and it achieved steady development in its production and operation with satisfaction.

Leveraging its intensive and improved production management as well as its enhanced technology, PetroChina maintained its stable crude oil production and continued its rapid growth in natural gas output during the first quarter of 2007. The Company's domestic and overseas exploration and production business segment recorded oil and gas output of 277 million barrels of oil equivalent, representing an increase of 9.9 million barrels of oil equivalent, or 3.7 percent, from the same period last year. Crude oil output cubic feet, representing an increase of 50.4 billion cubic feet, or 14 percent, from the same period in 2006.

In the first quarter of 2007, due to the impact of severe tides and snow storms in placePlaceNameBohai PlaceTypeBay area, part of the oil and gas wells in Liaohe, Dagang and Jidong oilfields were shut down. The Company prevailed over the impact of natural disaster by adopting a series of effective measures to restore production and to minimize damages. The effective recovery plan secured the Company's crude oil production plan. In the same quarter, riding on strong market demand for natural gas in winter, the Company achieved a significant growth in natural gas output through putting more production capacity into operation with optimized operation management.

The Company set another record high for the volume of crude oil processed during the first quarter of 2007 by allocating resources effectively, facilitating railway and water transportation, and optimizing the coordination among production, transportation, marketing, and storage operations. The Company processed 202 million barrels of crude oil, representing a rise of 5.2 million barrels, or 2.6 percent, from the corresponding period in 2006. The Company produced 11.575 million tons of diesel in the first quarter of 2007, representing a rise of 0.5 million tons, or 4.5 percent, from the same period in 2006. The Company produced 5.385 million tons of gasoline in the first quarter of 2007, representing a decline of 0.299 million tons, or 5.3 percent, from a year earlier.

Emphasizing safety and stable operation, the Company's chemicals business segment enhanced its output level during the first quarter of 2007. Smooth coordination of production and transportation, optimized product structure, and proactively response to market changes helped the Company to realize remarkable key product output in excess of pre-set targets with moderate growth from the same period in 2006. PetroChina produced 649 thousand tons of ethylene, representing a rise of 169 thousand tons, or 35.2 percent, from the same period of last year. The Company produced 1.01 million tons of synthetic resin, representing an increase of 256 thousand tons, or 33.9 percent, from the same period last year. The output of synthetic fibre raw materials and polymer reached 332 thousand tons, representing an increase of 9.9 percent, from the same period of last year.

PetroChina made further progress in its major pipeline projects in the first quarter of this year. Following the completion of connecting the West-East Gas Pipeline with the Second Shaanxi-Beijing Gas November 2006. Upon the completion of the Lanzhou-Yinchuan Pipeline, it will further enhance the safety and reliability of the natural gas supply in the CityXining, CityLanzhou and placeCityYinchuan regions.

Looking forward, the Company will proceed with its business plans laid down early this year. Responding actively to the changes in the domestic and overseas market, the Company will continue to conduct its production and operation in a smooth and careful manner and enhance its operational efficiency under prudent management with an aim to ensure the Company's sustainable growth in the long term.
