Item 8.01 Other Events.

Shenandoah Personal Communications Company (Shenandoah PCS), a wholly owned subsidiary of Shenandoah Telecommunications Company (the Company), and Sprint Nextel Corporation and certain of its subsidiaries (Sprint Nextel) have agreed to extend from April 15, 2006 to July 14, 2006 the expiration date of the Forbearance Agreement executed by the parties on August 9, 2005. The Forbearance Agreement sets forth Sprint Nextel s agreement to observe specified limitations in operating Nextel s wireless business in the Company s personal communications services (PCS) service area. The agreement also sets forth the Company s agreement not to initiate litigation or seek certain injunctive or equitable relief under certain circumstances, in each case during the period in which the agreement remains in effect.

As previously reported, the Company and Sprint Nextel have been conducting ongoing discussions regarding potential changes to their relationship in response to the merger in August 2005 of Sprint Communications, Inc. and Nextel Communications, Inc. and the provision by Nextel and its affiliate, Nextel Partners, Inc., of digital wireless communications services in the Company s PCS service area. To date, the Company has been unable to arrive at a mutually acceptable agreement with Sprint Nextel concerning such potential changes. Accordingly the Company is now going to consider other alternatives in discussions with Sprint Nextel including the possible sale. The Company is unable to predict whether or on what terms it would be able to implement a sale of its PCS business or the ultimate resolution of its discussions with Sprint Nextel concerning its relationship, or the impact of any such action on its financial condition or future operating results or prospects.
