CHARLOTTE, N.C., AND BIRMINGHAM, ALA. Wachovia Corporation (NYSE: WB) and SouthTrust Corporation (NASDAQ: SOTR) announced today new leadership for the General Bank, Risk Management and Wealth Management groups in the combined company, effective upon completion of the merger of the two companies. The merger was announced last week, and the transaction is expected to close in the fourth quarter.

I am excited about the opportunity to combine our two great companies, said Wallace Malone, chairman and CEO of SouthTrust. I believe we have selected an outstanding group of leaders who will continue our legacy of solid performance, good growth and excellent customer service. This early identification of leaders sets the stage for a smooth, well-organized transition, which is essential as we continue to provide outstanding service and prepare to do business together as a new company when the merger is complete.

Leadership selection is an important step in our merger integration efforts, said Ken Thompson, chairman, president and CEO of Wachovia Corporation. The new leadership combines the talent of two powerful companies and will ensure that upon consummation, Wachovia continues to be a strong competitor and an industry leader in customer service. Our new leadership team is committed to making the transition as seamless as possible for our customers and employees, and to maintaining lasting relationships with the communities in which we do business.
