Nasdaq Bid Price Deficiency Letter

On December 9, 2011, FreeSeas Inc. (the Company) issued a press release announcing that it has received a deficiency letter from NASDAQ stating that, because the Company's common stock has not maintained a minimum bid price of $1.00 per a share for the last 30 consecutive business days, the Company is no longer in compliance with NASDAQ Listing Rule Section 5450(a)(1).

In order to regain compliance, the Company has until June 4, 2012 for the closing bid price of its common stock to meet or exceed $1.00 for a minimum of 10 consecutive business days. If the Company has not regained compliance by the expiration of the initial 180 calendar days, NASDAQ will then provide written notification to the Company that its common stock is subject to delisting. If at any time during this 180-day period the closing bid price is at least $1.00 for a minimum of 10 consecutive business days, NASDAQ will provide written confirmation of compliance and matter will be closed.

If the Company does not regain compliance with the rule during this 180-day period, the Company may be eligible for an additional 180 calendar days to regain compliance if it meets all other initial listing standards, with the exception of the bid price. To qualify for the second compliance period, the Company must apply to transfer its common stock to The NASDAQ Capital Market and provide written notice to NASDAQ of its intent to cure this deficiency during the second compliance period.

The deficiency notification described above will have no immediate effect on the listing of the Company's common stock, pending the expiration of the relevant grace periods stated above. The Company is currently considering its options in order to comply with the $1.00 minimum bid price rule within the aforementioned grace periods. The Company will seek to regain compliance within these grace periods and is considering various measures to address compliance with the continued listing standards of The NASDAQ Stock Market. There can be no assurances that the Company will be able to satisfy the above described deficiency and that its common stock will not be delisted.

A copy of the related press release is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated herein by reference.

This report on Form 6-K and the exhibits attached hereto are incorporated by reference into the Registrant's Registration Statements on Form F-3, Registration Nos. 333-145098 and 333-149916.
