The Transaction

1. What did DUSA announce?

On November 8, 2012, we announced that DUSA Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (DUSA) and Sun Pharmaceutical Industries Limited, together with its subsidiaries, (Sun Pharma) entered into a definitive agreement under which Sun Pharma will make a cash tender offer for all of DUSA's outstanding common stock at a price of $8.00 per share. The tender offer represents a 38% premium to the closing price of DUSA stock on November 7, 2012, the last trading day before public announcement of the proposed transaction.

2. What is a tender offer ?

With a tender offer, a buyer offers to purchase the shares of a company at a specific price. A certain percentage of shares must be tendered to complete the acquisition. If the tender offer is successful, it will be followed by a second step merger in which all remaining shares will be acquired by the purchaser at the same cash price per share paid in the tender offer.

3. What will happen to DUSA?

We will work to obtain the required regulatory approvals necessary to complete this transaction. Upon completion of the acquisition, DUSA will become a wholly owned subsidiary of Sun Pharma. Upon completion of the transaction, DUSA's stock will cease trading on NASDAQ.

4. How will this transaction affect DUSA employees? Will Sun Pharma be coming here to meet with us?

Sun Pharma has great respect for our talent and recognizes that it is the people of DUSA who have made this company the success it is today. Upon completion of the deal, Sun Pharma plans to capitalize on the skills and experience of the talent from both organizations to help establish long-term success. Periodically you may see Sun Pharma employees in the building.

Table of Contents

Significant work remains to understand how to best integrate DUSA's business and people into Sun Pharma after the deal is completed, and a lot of details remain unresolved. We understand that this creates uncertainty for our teams. We remain committed to treating all employees with respect and dignity and, as appropriate and permissible under the law, will continue to keep you informed regarding the process by which staffing decisions will be made as soon as the information is available.

5. Who is Sun Pharma?

Sun Pharma is a multi-billion dollar, worldwide, pharmaceutical company that is headquartered in India with a diverse portfolio.

6. Why did DUSA accept this offer? What are the benefits?

In the coming days, DUSA will file with the Securities and Exchange Commission and send to its shareholders the recommendation of the board of directors in favor of the transaction with Sun Pharma. This document will contain, among other things, the reasons that the board of directors determined that the transaction is in the best interests of the shareholders of DUSA. We encourage you to read that document once it becomes available.

Human Resources / Employee Benefits

7. How will this transaction affect my job and the key projects I am working on now and planned for 2013?

Over the course of the next few months, we will be in discussion with Sun Pharma to gain clarity around future integration. In the meantime, it is critical for all DUSA employees to remain focused on their jobs and the achievement of our annual objectives and goals as we move forward.

8. What happens to my salary, bonus program, benefits, etc.? Will we receive a bonus for the 2012 plan year?

Sun Pharma has agreed that so long as you remain employed by the company, Sun Pharma will be obligated to provide you with total annual compensation and benefits which are at least comparable to those you are currently receiving for a minimum period of one year from the date of the closing of the transaction. The 2012 bonus program will be honored and paid out based on the achievement of corporate and individual goals.

9. What happens to my current equity holdings (e.g. vested and unvested stock options and/or restricted stock)? What do I have to do?

- a. At the acceptance time of the tender offer, each outstanding DUSA stock option, whether vested or unvested, will become fully vested immediately prior to the acceptance time and will be cancelled (without regard to the exercise price of such stock option) in exchange for the right to receive, without interest, a lump sum cash payment in the amount equal to the excess, if any, of (a) the tender offer price of $8.00 per share, less (b) the exercise price payable in respect of each share of DUSA common stock issuable under such stock option (net of applicable taxes). If you hold stock options immediately prior to the acceptance time of the tender offer, DUSA will pay, any amounts that become payable to you as soon as practicable after the acceptance time of the tender offer.

- b. In the event that the exercise price in respect of each share of DUSA common stock issuable under any stock option is equal to or greater than the offer price for a share of common stock in the tender offer, such stock option will be cancelled, without any consideration being payable in respect of such stock option, and have no further force or effect.
- c. At the acceptance time of the tender offer, all outstanding DUSA restricted stock, whether vested or unvested will become fully vested and all restrictions and conditions applicable thereto will lapse immediately prior to the acceptance time of the tender offer, and will be cancelled as of the acceptance time of the merger and will be converted into the right to receive, without interest, a cash payment equal to the amount of the offer price for a share of DUSA common stock in the tender offer. If you hold restricted stock immediately prior to the acceptance time of the merger, you will receive from DUSA, your cash payment with respect to the cancelled restricted stock (net of any applicable taxes) as soon as practicable after the acceptance time of the merger.
- d. Following the acceptance time of the tender offer, no stock option or restricted stock will remain outstanding and, with respect to any stock option and/or restricted stock that was held by you immediately prior to the acceptance time of the tender offer, you will only be entitled to receive the consideration (if any) set forth in the definitive merger agreement that is entered into by DUSA and Sun Pharma, as described for your convenience in this FAQ.

10. Can I sell my shares of DUSA since the blackout period has ended?

Yes, so long as you don't have material non-public information about the merger transaction or any other information about DUSA's business. DUSA's insider trading policy is still in force, thus the normal fourth quarter blackout will be instituted in mid-December. Please note that the Officers and Board of Directors of the company are also subject the terms of certain Support Agreements with Sun Pharma which further restrict trading. If you are a party to a Support Agreement your shares are subject to such agreement.

11. If my position is eliminated and/or the DUSA 401(k) plan ends, will the unvested company contribution of my 401(k) plan fully vest upon termination?

It will depend on Sun Pharma. The merger agreement requires Sun Pharma to provide employees with the opportunity to participate in employee benefit plans that provide benefits that are at least comparable in the aggregate to the benefits under DUSA's plans immediately before closing. Sun Pharma can accomplish this by either separately maintaining the DUSA plan or terminating the DUSA plan and giving the legacy DUSA employees the opportunity to enroll in the comparable Sun Pharma plan. Upon termination of the plan, a full termination will occur and everyone will be vested. If Sun Pharma maintains the plan, there would be no full termination, however, a partial termination could occur if the DUSA turnover rate is at least 20%, in which case everyone will be vested. Sun Pharma will need to analyze DUSA's terminations (both recent and projected) along with other relevant facts and circumstances surrounding the transaction to determine whether a partial termination has occurred or will likely occur in the near future. Please note that if you have been an employee of DUSA for four or more years, you are 100% vested in the company match.

12. Am I still eligible to receive tuition reimbursement for courses I am taking right now if I lose my job before the course is complete?

Yes. Tuition reimbursement will continue for courses you are currently enrolled in.

13. Will the DUSA Severance Policy stay in effect for the next year?

Yes.

Communication

14. What should I say if I'm asked about the transaction?

As always, should you be contacted by members of the media, investors or other interested third parties regarding this transaction, it is important that you forward such calls, emails or other communication to Richard C. Christopher, Vice President, Finance and Chief Financial Officer at 978-909-2211 or christopherr@dusapharma.com. It is also important not to speculate on rumors around the office or on stories in the media.

All internal communications on this matter must remain confidential, and emails should not be forwarded to anyone outside of DUSA including customers, partners, vendors, Sun Pharma employees, investors or media.

No employee is authorized to speak to any member of the media or investment community or at any third-party conference or event without the appropriate internal approvals.

15. Can we discuss this transaction with Sun Pharma employees?

No. Remember that Sun Pharma remains a separate competitive business until the completion of the transaction; this means you must not exchange any information that you would not ordinarily disclose to another firm or engage in any integration related activities without prior approval.

Table of Contents

Next Steps

16. What are the next steps? How long before the transaction closes?

We will work to obtain the required regulatory approvals necessary to complete this transaction. During this time, DUSA and Sun Pharma will continue conducting their businesses as usual. The acquisition is subject to the satisfaction of customary closing conditions, including receipt of regulatory clearances. Assuming these conditions and clearances are met, we expect the transaction to be completed at the end of 2012 or in the first quarter of 2013.

17. What happens if the transaction doesn't close?

In the unlikely event that the transaction does not move forward as intended, DUSA and Sun Pharma will continue to operate independently. This is one reason why all employees (of DUSA and Sun Pharma) are required to maintain confidentiality and adhere to approved talking points in conversations with HCPs and others outside the company.

18. What can employees expect over the coming weeks and months?

We expect the transaction to be completed at the end of 2012 or in the first quarter of 2013, and we will update you as appropriate through various, dedicated communication vehicles. From an operational standpoint, it is business as usual. It is important that we all continue working on our business objectives with the same level of passion and commitment that has created our success to date.

19. When can we expect to hear additional information about the integration? If I have additional questions, who can I ask?

We encourage you to speak with your manager or Human Resources. We will provide ongoing communication about the integration as it becomes available.
