Collar Mechanism - Protecting Rovi and TiVo Stockholders If the Average Rovi Stock Price is between $16.00 and $18.71 and Rovi elects to use the cash top-up, then exchange ratio shares issued to TiVo shareholders and Rovi pro forma ownership is fixed. "Average Rovi Stock Price" means the average of the volume weighted averages of the trading prices of Rovi Common Stock on the NASDAQ on each of the fifteen (15) consecutive Trading Days ending on (and including) the Trading Day that is three (3) Trading Days prior to the date of the completion of the Mergers. Assumes that Rovi elects the maximum permissible cash top-up at all prices below $18.71. Protects Existing Rovi Stockholders as any share price benefits that might come with closing additional Tier 1 renewals before the transaction closes will reduce the number of shares Rovi would need to issue Within the collar, if Rovi's share prices increases prior to closing: The exchange ratio falls (1) The number of shares issued to TiVo stockholders decreases Rovi's pro forma ownership increases / TiVo decreases (1) TiVo Merger Consideration remains fixed at $10.70 per share Stock consideration subject to a two-way collar between prices of $16.00 and $25.00

Collar Mechanism - Protecting Rovi and TiVo Stockholders Assumes at $18.71 or lower Average Rovi Stock Price, Rovi elects to maintain a 0.4250 exchange ratio and increase cash consideration (up to a maximum of $3.90 per share) The two-way collar is based upon Rovi's average volume weighted average price (VWAP) over the 15 trading days ending on the third trading day prior to close (the "Average Rovi Stock Price"): If Rovi's share price increases, within the collar range, between signing and closing, TiVo stockholders will receive fewer shares (lower exchange ratio) at Average Rovi Stock Prices between $18.71 and $25.00, at which point ownership and exchange ratio will be fixed (0.3180) If Rovi's share price decreases, within the collar range, between signing and closing, TiVo stockholders will receive more shares until Rovi stock price reaches $18.71, at which point Rovi can elect between additional cash or shares Between Rovi share price of $18.71 (exchange ratio of 0.4250) and $16.00 (exchange ratio of 0.4969), Rovi shall elect to set the exchange ratio as any fraction, in its sole discretion, between 0.4250 and the fraction obtained by dividing $7.95 by the applicable Average Rovi Stock Price, up to a maximum of 0.4969 Per share cash amount is $2.75 if Rovi's stock price exceeds $25.00. If the Average Rovi Stock Price is in the collar, the per share cash amount is $10.70 – (Average Rovi Stock Price multiplied by the applicable exchange ratio). If the Average Rovi Stock Price is below $16.00, then per share cash amount is $10.70 – ($16.00 multiplied by the applicable exchange ratio) Post-transaction, Rovi stockholders will own 67% - 73% (1) of the pro forma shares outstanding of the new company Stock consideration subject to a two-way collar between prices of $16.00 and $25.00
