COMMERCIAL BANKSHARES, INC.
Annual Meeting of Shareholders to be held on April 20, 2006

PROXY STATEMENT

General

The Board of Directors of Commercial Bankshares, Inc. (the "Company") is soliciting proxies to be used at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders to be held on Thursday, April 20, 2006, and all adjournments thereof. This Proxy Statement and the accompanying proxy card are first being sent to shareholders on or about March 15, 2006.

The shares represented by all properly executed proxies received by the Company will be voted as specified by the shareholders. If no specifications are given (including broker non-votes), the shares represented by the proxy will be voted for the election of the listed nominees as directors. A shareholder who has given a proxy may revoke it at any time before it is voted at the meeting by filing with the Secretary of the Company a written notice of revocation, by submitting a proxy bearing a later date or by attending the meeting and voting in person.

Record Date and Outstanding Shares

On March 6, 2006, there were 6,041,968 shares of the Company's Common Stock, par value $.08 per share, outstanding. Each share of Common Stock of record on the books of the Company at the close of business on March 6, 2006 entitles its owner to one vote, either in person or by proxy, upon each matter to come before the meeting.

Voting and Solicitation

A majority of the shares entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum. Votes cast in person or by proxy will be tabulated by the inspectors of election, appointed by the Board of Directors. The current Florida Business Corporation Act (the "Act") provides that directors are elected by a plurality of the votes cast if a quorum is present at the meeting, and all other matters are approved if the votes cast in favor of the action exceed the votes cast against the action (unless the matter is one for which the Act or the Articles of Incorporation require a greater vote).

A proxy submitted by a shareholder may indicate that all or a portion of the shares represented by such proxy are not being voted by such shareholder with respect to a particular matter ("non-voted shares"). This could occur, for example, when a broker is not permitted to vote shares held in "street name" on certain matters in the absence of instructions from the beneficial owner of the shares. Non-voted shares with respect to a particular matter will be counted for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum but will not be counted as shares present and entitled to vote on such matter for purposes of voting, and therefore, will have no effect on matters brought to a vote at the Annual Meeting. Shares voting to abstain as to a particular matter and directions to "withhold authority" to vote for directors, will be counted for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum and will be counted as present and entitled to vote with respect to such matter for purposes of voting, and therefore, will have the effect of votes against the matters brought to a vote at the Annual Meeting.

The expense of soliciting proxies will be borne by the Company. Proxies will be solicited principally by mail, but directors, officers and regular employees of the Company or its subsidiaries may solicit proxies personally or by telephone. The Company will reimburse custodians, nominees, or other persons for their out-of-pocket expenses in sending proxy material to beneficial owners.

Regardless of the number of shares you own, it is important that they be represented at the Annual Meeting. You are respectfully requested to sign, date and return the accompanying proxy card at your earliest convenience.

PROPOSAL I -
ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Unless you specify otherwise on the accompanying proxy, the shares represented by the proxy will be voted for the election of the listed nominees to serve as Directors until the next Annual Meeting of Shareholders or until their successors are elected and qualified. If a quorum is present at the Meeting, the plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election of Directors at the Meeting is required to elect each nominee.

BOARD GOVERNANCE

The Board of Directors and Committees

The Board of Directors of the Company consists of the same persons as the Board of Directors of the Bank. The Company conducts its operations through the Bank, which is its wholly-owned subsidiary. Both the Company and the Bank held twelve meetings of the Board of Directors during 2005. Each director attended at least 75% of the board meetings that were held while he was serving as a director during the year, as well as attending at least 75% of the committee meetings of those committees of which the respective director was a member. During 2005, the Company's Board of Directors had standing Audit and Compensation Committees, and the Bank's Board of Directors had standing Audit, Executive, Loan and Compliance Committees.

(a) Audit Committee. The Bank's Audit Committee consists of Messrs. Anderson, Namoff, Simon, Sontag and Yelen. These persons were all independent, non-employee directors of the Bank and the Company. The Board of Directors has determined that each member of the Audit Committee is financially literate and independent in accordance with NASDAQ's listing standards and that Mr. Namoff is an "audit committee financial expert", as defined by the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). The Audit Committee held four meetings during 2005. The Audit Committee has functional supervision over the internal audit staff, reviews the system of internal controls and the adequacy of the internal audit system and receives reports on activities of the internal auditing department. It recommends the independent registered public accounting firm to the Bank's and the Company's Boards of Directors, approves all services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm and related fees and reviews the scope of the audits and the actual audits performed by both the independent registered public accounting firm and the internal auditors. It is responsible for ensuring that the audit findings are adequately addressed.

(b) Compensation Committee. The Company's Compensation Committee consists of Messrs. Anderson, Simon and Yelen. These persons are all independent, non-employee directors of the Company and constitute three of the five non-employee directors of the Board. The Compensation Committee held three meetings during 2005. The Compensation Committee was delegated the duties of establishing and administering an executive compensation program. Its activities include reviewing and approving the design of the program, setting performance goals, assessing executive performance and making grants of salary, bonuses and incentive compensation. The Compensation Committee also administers the 2004 Employee Stock Option Plan.

(c) Nominating Committee. The Company has no formal nominating committee but rather the entire Board of Directors acts as the nominating committee. All of the director nominees of the Company set forth in Proposal I entitled "Election of Directors" were approved by a majority of the independent, non-employee directors of the Company. Messrs. Anderson, Namoff, Simon, Sontag and Yelen are all the independent, non-employee directors of the Company. The Board of Directors believes it is appropriate for the Company to nominate its director nominees through a majority of the independent directors of the full board and not a separate nominating committee due to the efficiencies gained by not having a separate committee.

The Board of Directors, several months prior to the annual meeting of the shareholders, conducts a process of identifying and evaluating Board nominees. The Board initially looks to nominating its existing directors for re-election to the Board as appropriate or to other Director nominees proposed, as appropriate, by the Chairman of the Board and in doing so considers each director's independence, if required, skills, performance and attendance to the Board and respective committees. The Board of Directors will also consider candidates recommended by Shareholders (see the caption "Shareholder Proposal" contained herein). In evaluating any candidates for potential director nomination, the Board of Directors, and specifically a majority of the independent, non-employee directors, will consider candidates that are independent, if required, who possess personal and professional integrity, have good business judgment, relevant experience and skills, including financial expertise, if required, and who would be effective as a Director in conjunction with the full board and collectively serving the long-term interests of the Company's shareholders. All candidates will be reviewed in the same manner, regardless of the source of recommendation.

Table of Contents

The Company does not have a formal policy regarding attendance by members of the Board of Directors at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders, but it encourages its Directors to attend and historically, most have done so. With respect to the 2005 Annual Shareholder Meeting, all of the members of the Board of Directors, which at the time was comprised of seven members, attended such Annual Shareholder Meeting.

Director Compensation

Directors of the Company who are salaried employees of the Bank do not receive any additional compensation for serving as a director or committee member. During the year 2005, non-employee directors of the Bank received a retainer of $5,000 per calendar quarter. The Chairman of the Audit Committee received an additional retainer of $3,000 per calendar year.

In addition, each non-employee director in office in June, 2005 received options to purchase 1,500 shares of Common Stock for serving on the Board.

Report of the Audit Committee

The following report on the Audit Committee is made pursuant to the rules of the SEC. The Audit Committee has met and held discussions with management and the independent registered public accounting firm. Management represented to the Audit Committee that the Company's consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and the Audit Committee has reviewed and discussed the consolidated financial statements with management and the independent registered public accounting firm. The Audit Committee discussed with the independent registered public accounting firm matters required to be discussed by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, "Communication with Audit Committees".

The Audit Committee discussed with the Company's internal audit staff and its independent registered public accounting firm the overall scope and plans for their respective audits. The Audit Committee meets with the internal audit staff and its independent registered public accounting firm to discuss the results of their examinations, the evaluations of the Company's internal controls and the overall quality of the Company's financial reporting. The Audit Committee also approves all services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm and related fees.

The Audit Committee has received the written disclosures and the letter from the independent registered public accounting firm required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 "Independence Discussions with Audit Committees", as may be modified or supplemented, and has discussed with the independent registered public accounting firm the independent registered public accounting firm's independence. The members of the Audit Committee are independent as independence is defined in Rule 4200(a)(14) of the National Association of Securities Dealers.

Based on the review and discussions referred to above, the Audit Committee recommended to the Board of Directors that the audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2005 be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year 2005, for filing with the SEC.

Employment Agreements

The Company and the Bank have entered into employment agreements with Messrs. Armaly and Partagas. The Bank has entered into employment agreements with Mr. Steinberger and Ms. Reed. These agreements, which are summarized below, are intended to assure the Company and the Bank of the continued services of its key officers.

With respect to Messrs. Armaly and Partagas, the agreements entered into as of March 18, 1994 provide that each officer shall be employed by the Company and the Bank in his current position for a period of three (3) years. On March 31, 1995 the term was extended automatically for one additional year and on each subsequent March 31 the term is automatically extended for one additional year such that after each March 31 extension the term of the agreement is a full three years. Compensation and benefits are to be determined by the Board of Directors of the Company, provided that the officer's participation in employee benefit plans and arrangements shall provide benefits at least equal to those provided to all other employees of the Company. In the event that the officer's employment is terminated (except for death, disability, or cause) or if the officer terminates his employment because of a reduction in position, responsibility, salary, or for any other good reason, as defined in the agreement, and including a change in control of the Company, the officer is entitled to severance benefits equal to three year's salary and cash incentive compensation plus the option to continue to receive fringe benefits for an additional three years or an additional sixty (60%) percent of annual salary and cash incentive compensation in lieu of fringe benefits. In the event the officer terminates his employment other than for good reason, as defined in the agreement, the officer is entitled to severance benefits equal to one year's salary and cash incentive compensation, plus an additional twenty (20%) percent in lieu of fringe benefits. Such severance benefits will be based upon the executive's then current salary and the aggregate cash incentive compensation last paid to or earned by the officer in the immediately preceding twelve months prior to termination. In the event that any of such payments constitute "parachute payments" under Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code and therefore are subject to the excise tax on "excess parachute payments" under Section 4999 of the Internal Revenue Code, the agreements provide that the Company will pay an additional cash amount, as determined by a formula set forth in the agreements, sufficient to pay both the excise tax and any additional amounts which become due as the result of the payment of the excise tax, to put the officer in the same position as though no excise tax had been imposed.

Table of Contents

With respect to Mr. Steinberger, the agreement entered into as of December 18, 1998 provides that he shall be employed by the Bank in his current position for a period of one year. On December 18, 1999 the term was extended automatically for one additional year and on each subsequent December 18 the term is automatically extended for one additional year. Compensation and benefits are to be determined by the Board of Directors of the Bank, provided that the officer's participation in employee benefit plans and arrangements shall provide benefits at least equal to those provided to all other employees of the Bank. In the event that the officer's employment is terminated (except for death, disability, or cause) or if the officer terminates his employment because of a reduction in position, responsibility, salary, or for any other good reason, as defined in the agreement, Mr. Steinberger is entitled to severance benefits equal to his base salary and cash incentive compensation through and including the scheduled termination date of this agreement, as extended. If the agreement is terminated by Mr. Steinberger pursuant to a change in control of the Company, Mr. Steinberger is entitled to severance benefits equal to two year's salary and cash incentive compensation plus the option to continue to receive fringe benefits for an additional two years or an additional forty (40%) percent of annual salary and cash incentive compensation in lieu of fringe benefits. In the event that Mr. Steinberger terminates his employment other than for good reason, as defined in the agreement, the officer is entitled to severance benefits equal to his base salary and cash incentive compensation through and including the date of termination. Such severance benefits will be based upon Mr. Steinberger's then current salary and the aggregate cash incentive compensation last paid to or earned by the officer in the immediately preceding twelve months prior to termination. In the event that any of such payments constitute "parachute payments" under Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code and therefore are subject to the excise tax on "excess parachute payments" under Section 4999 of the Internal Revenue Code, the agreements provide that the Bank will pay an additional cash amount, as determined by a formula set forth in the agreements, sufficient to pay both the excise tax and any additional amounts which become due as the result of the payment of the excise tax, to put the officer in the same position as though no excise tax had been imposed.

With respect to Ms. Reed, the agreement entered into as of February 5, 1997 provides that she shall be employed by the Bank in her current position for a period of one year. On December 14, 1997 the term was extended automatically for one additional year and on each subsequent December 14 the term is automatically extended for one additional year. Compensation and benefits are to be determined by the Board of Directors of the Bank, provided that the officer's participation in employee benefit plans and arrangements shall provide benefits at least equal to those provided to all other employees of the Bank. In the event that the officer's employment is terminated (except for death, disability, or cause) or if the officer terminates her employment because of a reduction in position, responsibility, salary, or for any other good reason, as defined in the agreement, Ms. Reed is entitled to severance benefits equal to her base salary and cash incentive compensation through and including the scheduled termination date of this agreement, as extended. If the agreement is terminated by Ms. Reed pursuant to a change in control of the Company, Ms. Reed is entitled to severance benefits equal to twelve times her then current monthly salary. In the event that Ms. Reed terminates her employment other than for good reason, as defined in the agreement, the officer is entitled to severance benefits equal to her base salary and cash incentive compensation through and including the date of termination. Such severance benefits will be based upon Ms. Reed's then current salary and the aggregate cash incentive compensation last paid to or earned by the officer in the immediately preceding twelve months prior to termination.

Board Compensation Committee Report on Executive Compensation

1. Performance and Policies.

The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors of the Company oversees and administers the Company's executive compensation programs. All members of the Compensation Committee are outside directors who are not eligible to participate in any of the compensation programs that the Committee oversees. The Compensation Committee recommends and the Board of Directors determines, based on such recommendations, compensation for the Chairman. Compensation levels for the other executive officers of the Company are determined by the Compensation Committee, based on the recommendations of the Chairman.

The Company's executive compensation program is designed to attract, retain, motivate and appropriately reward individuals who are responsible for the Company's short- and long-term profitability, growth and return to shareholders. It is also designed to align the interests of high level employees with those of the shareholders. Compensation for Company executive officers consists of base compensation, annual cash incentive awards and long-term incentive awards in the form of stock options. Executive officers also participate in a savings incentive plan and a medical plan available to employees generally.

Table of Contents

The determination of base compensation increases, annual cash incentive awards and long-term incentive awards is based upon the performance of the Company, the contribution of each individual to that performance and consideration for economic conditions and events which may impact the future performance of the Company. Individual contribution is assessed based upon factors such as level of responsibility, job complexity and the importance of the position in the structure of the Company and the Bank. Individual contribution is also judged more subjectively based upon the Compensation Committee's overall evaluation of the officer's professionalism and professional growth, judgment, business acumen and ability and effort. The Compensation Committee also compares, on a random and subjective basis, the salaries of the executive officers with the salaries of executive officers of other bank holding companies of comparable size. Finally the Compensation Committee considers whether compensation increases are fair and equitable based upon individual performance and a comparison with peers. Although the components of compensation (base compensation, annual cash incentive awards, and long-term incentive awards) are reviewed separately, compensation decisions are made based on a review of total compensation.

- (a) Base Compensation. Pay levels for each executive are set annually at the beginning of the fiscal year and are based primarily on the performance of the Company during the prior fiscal year. The Compensation Committee considers factors such as earnings per share, pre-tax earnings, net profits and return on equity. Secondly, the Compensation Committee considers individual performance in light of each executive's job responsibilities. In determining the base salaries for 2005, the Compensation Committee took into account the Company's performance during 2004. Specifically, net income increased 10% during 2004, return on average assets and equity were 1.35% and 16.12%, respectively, credit performance remained strong; diluted earnings per common share increased from $1.69 in 2003 to $1.82 in 2004; average loans increased by 15% from 2003 to 2004; and average total deposits increased by 12% from 2003 to 2004.
- (b) Annual Cash Incentive Awards. Annual cash incentive awards to the Company's executive officers are granted at the discretion of the Compensation Committee and are determined at the end of the fiscal year. The determination of the amount of such awards is made by the Compensation Committee based upon the performance of the Company and on a subjective basis as indicated above. For purposes of determining the level of the annual cash incentive awards to be paid to senior executives for 2005, it was the Compensation Committee's view that the Company's 2005 results represented a strong performance. The Compensation Committee noted the following factors in support of its findings: net income increased 7% during 2005; return on average assets and equity were 1.27% and 15.53%; credit performance remained excellent; diluted earnings per common share increased from $1.82 in 2004 to $1.93 in 2005; the senior executive officers were successful in implementing the growth strategy of the Bank, as average loans increased by 10% from 2004 to 2005; and average total deposits increased 14% from 2004 to 2005.
- (c) Stock Option Awards. The Compensation Committee also uses stock options to reward management and to link them to the long-term results and stockholder interests of the Company. Option grants are usually determined in the spring of each fiscal year. The levels of option grants are determined at the discretion of the Compensation Committee on a subjective basis. Previous grants of stock options are reviewed but are not considered the most important factor in determining the size of any executive's stock option award in a particular year. In determining the levels of option grants for 2005, the Compensation Committee considered the performance of the Company for fiscal year 2004, the performance of the Company for the beginning of 2005, and efforts and initiatives by the executive officers to implement and support the strategic objectives of the Bank.

2. CEO Compensation.

Joseph Armaly is eligible to participate in the same executive compensation program available to the other executive officers within the Company. His 2005 base salary was set at $390,000, as compared to $360,000 in 2004. Mr. Armaly's base salary was based primarily on the Company's performance during 2004; specifically, net income increased 10% during 2004; return on average assets and equity were 1.35% and 16.12% respectively; credit performance remained strong; diluted earnings per common share increased from $1.69 in 2003 to $1.82 in 2004; average loans increased by 15% from 2003 to 2004; and average total deposits increased by 12% from 2003 to 2004.

Table of Contents

The stock option grants made to Mr. Armaly in 2005 were based on the analysis discussed above for fiscal year 2004, together with performance of the Company for the first half of 2005. In June 2005, Mr. Armaly was awarded ten-year options covering 2,500 shares. The terms and conditions of this grant were consistent with the grants to all other executive officers.

In December, 2005, Mr. Armaly received an annual cash incentive award of $200,000. This annual cash incentive award was based upon the Company's performance during the 2005 fiscal year and the individual performance of the executive. In determining this award, the Compensation Committee considered the increase in the Company's earnings during 2005. Specifically, the Compensation Committee considered the following factors: net income increased 7% during 2005; return on average assets and equity were 1.27% and 15.53%; diluted earnings per common share increased from $1.82 in 2004 to $1.93 in 2005; the Bank was successful in implementing its growth strategy, as average loans increased by 10% from 2004 to 2005; and average total deposits increased 14% from 2004 to 2005.

Stock Performance Graph

The following graph compares cumulative five-year shareholder returns (including reinvestment of dividends) on an indexed basis with the Center for Research in Security Prices ("CRSP") Index for the NASDAQ Stock Market (U.S. Companies) and the CRSP Index for NASDAQ Bank Stocks (SIC codes 602 and 671). These indices are included for comparative purposes only, and do not necessarily reflect management's opinion that such indices are an appropriate measure of the relative performance of the stock involved and are not intended to forecast or be indicative of possible future performance of the Common Stock. The graph assumes that the value of an investment in the Common Stock and in each index was $100 on December 31, 2000, and that all dividends were reinvested.
