Item 1.01 Entry Into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 21, 2010, we replaced our existing credit agreement (described below) with a new three-year $1 billion unsecured revolving credit agreement with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. as Agent and as CAF Loan Agent, Bank of America, N.A. as Syndication Agent, Citibank, N.A., PNC Bank, National Association, U.S. Bank National Association, and Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as Documentation Agents, and J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated, Citigroup Global Markets, Inc., PNC Capital Markets LLC, U.S. Bank, National Association, and Wells Fargo Securities, LLC, as Joint-Lead Arrangers and Joint Bookrunners (“New Credit Agreement”). The Company entered into the New Credit Agreement: (a) for general corporate purposes; and (b) to replace its previous credit agreement.

Under the New Credit Agreement, at our option, we can borrow on either a competitive advance basis or a revolving credit basis. The revolving credit portion bears interest at LIBOR or the base rate plus a spread. The competitive advance portion of any borrowings will bear interest at market rates prevailing at the time of borrowing on either a fixed rate or a floating rate based on LIBOR, at our option. The Company will pay an annual facility fee regardless of utilization.

The New Credit Agreement contains customary restrictive and financial covenants as well as customary events of default, including financial covenants regarding the maintenance of a minimum level of net worth and a maximum leverage ratio. The terms of the New Credit Agreement also include standard provisions related to conditions of borrowing, including a customary material adverse effect clause which could limit our ability to borrow (other than borrowings used to refinance maturing commercial paper). We have not experienced a material adverse effect and we know of no circumstances or events which would be reasonably likely to result in a material adverse effect. At this time, we do not believe the material adverse effect clause poses a material funding risk to us. In addition, the New Credit Agreement includes an uncommitted $250 million incremental loan facility.

We have other relationships, including financial advisory and banking, with some parties to the New Credit Agreement.

We have no borrowings outstanding under the New Credit Agreement as December 21, 2010. We have outstanding letters of credit of approximately $10.5 million issued under the New Credit Agreement as of December 21, 2010. No amounts have ever been drawn on these letters of credit. Accordingly, as of December 21, 2010, we have approximately $989.5 million of remaining borrowing capacity under the New Credit Agreement, none of which would be restricted by our financial covenant compliance requirement.

The foregoing description of the New Credit Agreement does not purport to be complete. For an understanding of the terms and provisions of the New Credit Agreement, reference should be made to the copy of that agreement attached as Exhibit 10 to this Form 8-K and incorporated by reference herein.

Item 1.02 Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement.

Edgar Filing: HUMANA INC - Form 8-K

The New Credit Agreement replaces the Company's five year, $1 billion unsecured revolving credit agreement dated as of July 14, 2006 (the "Previous Credit Agreement").

Under the Previous Credit Agreement, at our option, we were able to borrow on either a competitive advance basis or a revolving credit basis. The revolving credit portion bore interest at LIBOR or the base rate plus a spread. The competitive advance portion of any borrowings bore interest at market rates prevailing at the time of borrowing on either a fixed rate or a floating rate based on LIBOR, at our option. We paid an annual facility fee regardless of utilization. In addition to the facility fee, a utilization fee of 10 basis points was payable for any day in which borrowings under the facility exceeded 50% of the total $1 billion commitment.

The Previous Credit Agreement contained customary restrictive and financial covenants as well as customary events of default, including financial covenants regarding the maintenance of a minimum level of net worth and maximum leverage ratios. At December 21, 2010, we were in compliance with all applicable financial covenant requirements. The terms of the Previous Credit Agreement also included standard provisions related to conditions of borrowing, including a customary material adverse effect clause which could limit our ability to borrow (other than borrowings used to refinance maturing commercial paper).

There were no balances outstanding under the Previous Credit Agreement at December 21, 2010.

Item 2.03 Creation of a Direct Financial Obligation or an Obligation Under an Off-Balance Sheet Arrangement of a Registrant.

The information described above under "Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement" is hereby incorporated by reference.
