January 21, 2010:

On January 21, 2010, the Delaware Small Cap Growth Trust (Collective Investment Trust) transitioned to the Focus Growth Team of the Delaware Management Company with Christopher J. Bonavico and Kenneth F. Broad assuming portfolio responsibilities. Effective March 31, 2010, the name will change to Delaware Smid-Cap Growth Trust, and the investment objective, investment strategies and investment risks will change as follows:

Name	Delaware Small Cap Growth Trust	Delaware Smid-Cap Growth Trust
Investment Objectives	The Trust seeks capital appreciation by investing primarily in securities of emerging or other growth-oriented companies. The Trust's benchmark is the Russell 2000® Growth Index.	The Trust seeks long term capital appreciation by investing primarily in common stocks of growth oriented companies. The Trust's benchmark is the Russell 2500® Growth Index.
Investment Strategies	The Trust invests primarily in small companies that the sub-advisor believes offer above-average opportunities for long-term price appreciation because they are poised to benefit from changing and dominant trends within society or the political arena. The sub-advisor uses a bottom-up approach to stock selection that seeks market leaders, strong product cycles, innovative concepts, and industry trends. The sub-advisor relies on its own research in choosing securities for the Trust	The Trust investment primarily in stocks of growth-oriented companies that the sub-advisor believes have long-term capital appreciation potential and expect to grow faster than the U.S. economy. The sub-advisor generally considers companies that, at the time of purchase, have total market capitalizations within the range of market capitalizations of companies in the Russell 2500® Growth Index. Under normal circumstances the Trust will invest at least 80% of portfolio, reviewing price-to-earnings ratios, estimated growth rates, market capitalization, and cash flows, ultimately investing in: common stocks, American Depositary Receipts (ADRs), repurchase agreements, restricted securities, illiquid securities, convertible securities, warrants, preferred stocks, bonds, and lending securities. The Trust may buy or sell securities on a “when issued” or “delayed delivery” basis, borrow money from banks as a temporary measure for extraordinary or emergency purposes, or to facilitate redemptions, or take temporary defensive positions.

its net assets in equity securities of small- and mid-capitalization companies (80% Policy). The sub-advisor uses the bottom up approach, seeking to select securities of companies, the sub-advisor believes have attractive end market potential, dominant business models, and strong cash flow generation that are attractively priced compared to intrinsic value of the securities. The sub-advisor also considers a company’s operational efficiencies, management’s plans for capital allocation, and the company’s shareholder orientation. These factors give the sub-advisor insight into the outlook for a company, helping to identify companies poised for free cash flow growth. The sub-advisor believes that sustainable free cash flow growth, if it occurs, may result in price appreciation for the company’s stock.

The Fund generally holds 25 to 30 stocks, although from time to time it may hold fewer or more names, depending upon the Sub-Advisor’s assessment of the investment opportunities available. In addition, the Sub-Advisor maintains a diversified portfolio representing a number of different industries. Such an approach helps to minimize the impact that any one security or industry could have on the Fund if it were to experience a period of slow or declining growth.
