Edmonton, Alberta, June 12, 2002 -CGI Group Inc. (CGI) (TSX: GIB.A; NYSE: GIB) today announced that it closed the acquisition of privately-held Stewart & Stewart Consulting Inc., with revenues valued at CDN$4 million. The Edmonton-based company adds geographic information systems and resource-based systems knowledge with its 35 professionals supplying services primarily to the Alberta government.

CGI's Edmonton office now employs close to 200 professionals serving both government and private sector clients. With this acquisition, CGI has forged new links with Alberta Sustainable Resources. CGI's Edmonton-based professionals provide long-term information technology support and development to four Alberta government departments as well as the NWT Workers' Compensation Board based in Yellowknife. CGI also has government practices in Ottawa, Toronto, Regina, Quebec City, Cleveland, Washington and Albany. Government client revenue account for 12% of CGI's total revenue.

"In joining CGI, we are able to offer our clients a broader array of services and expertise. Something we could not do on our own as effectively. Our seasoned professionals will benefit from synergies created within CGI as we collectively evolve the practice," said Rod Stewart former president of Stewart & Stewart Consulting Inc.

Michael Roach, president and chief operating officer for CGI added: "We are very excited about broadening our presence and expertise in Western Canada. For over 10 years, Stewart & Stewart marked themselves by offering high quality consulting services with an increasing focus on geographical information systems in the forestry and land management sector. Their professionalism and strong commitment to delivering value make them an excellent fit within CGI. We value our strong ties with the Alberta government for which this acquisition further demonstrates our commitment to bringing them best-of-breed services and solutions."
