Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On March 31, 2006, the Compensation and Leadership Committee (the Compensation Committee) of the Motorola Inc. (Motorola) Board of Directors approved the Motorola Long Range Incentive Plan (LRIP) of 2006 (the 2006 LRIP) which is effective as of January 1, 2006. The 2006 LRIP is filed with this report as Exhibit 10.36. Below is a summary of the 2006 LRIP, which is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the 2006 LRIP.

The 2006 LRIP has been established to encourage outstanding individuals to serve as officers of Motorola and to furnish those officers maximum incentive to improve operations and increase profits. The 2006 LRIP, which replaces the Motorola Long Range Incentive Plan of 2005 (the 2005 LRIP), is based on successive multi-year performance periods. The first cycle, which covers a three-year performance period, commenced January 1, 2006. The 2006 LRIP is being implemented pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Motorola Omnibus Incentive Plan of 2003, or its successor. There shall be no further performance cycles under the 2005 LRIP.

As recommended by the Chief Executive Officer and approved by the Compensation Committee, Corporate, Senior and Executive Vice Presidents of Motorola may participate in the 2006 LRIP. The Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Operating Officer (if any) are also eligible to participate as approved by the Compensation Committee.

A participant's target award is established at the commencement of a performance period based on a percentage of the participant's base pay in effect at that time. A participant's maximum earned award will be two times his or her target award. The award earned will be based on the achievement of stated performance goals relating to cumulative improvement in economic profit and cumulative sales growth during each performance period. Performance measures may apply to performance in each year in the performance cycle, to cumulative performance during the entire performance cycle, or a combination of both.

Awards may be subject to total forfeiture if Motorola's total shareholder return for the entire performance cycle is not positive or partial or complete forfeiture if Motorola's total shareholder return does not meet or exceed the 55th percentile total shareholder return for the performance cycle for a defined comparator group. Awards will be calculated after the close of each performance cycle on which the awards are based. All earned awards will be paid in shares of Motorola common stock as soon as administratively practicable following the close of a performance period. The Motorola shares will be issued under the Motorola Omnibus Incentive Plan of 2003, or its successor, or such other shareholder approved Motorola equity-based incentive plan as designated by the Compensation Committee.

The Compensation Committee has the authority to administer, construe and make all determinations necessary or appropriate to the administration of the 2006 LRIP.
