PART I

ITEM 1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS.

General.

American Stone Industries, Inc. ("ASI" or the "Company") is a holding company that conducts its business through its wholly-owned subsidiary, American Stone Corporation ("ASC"). The Company quarries and sells stone for use in the building construction industry. The Company produces two types of natural stone: (1) dimensional stone, which is natural stone that is cut to size as specified in architectural designs and is primarily used as architectural accents to buildings, although dimensional stone is also used for funeral monuments, landscape and ornamental objects; and (2) construction stone, which is natural stone primarily used for road base, back fill and erosion control.

The Company was incorporated in the State of Delaware on November 11, 1992. The Company acquired the operating assets of Cleveland Quarries, L.P. in February 1996, and thereafter began operating the 145-year old quarry situated near Amherst, Ohio known as the "Cleveland Sandstone Quarries" (the "Cleveland Quarries"). The Cleveland Quarries consist of estimated recoverable reserve deposits in excess of 300 million cubic feet located on 975 acres of property. Management of the Company ("Management") believes, based upon various industry reports and surveys since the initial discovery in 1853, that the Cleveland Quarries are among the world's largest sandstone quarries.

In January of 2001, the Company created Amherst Stone at Cleveland Quarries, Inc. ("Amherst Stone"), a wholly-owned subsidiary, to act as a distributor directly to northern Ohio builders and landscapers. The Company intended Amherst Stone to act as a full-time supplier of Cleveland Quarries sandstone and other natural stone products. In December 2002, the Company decided to consolidate the activities of Amherst Stone into ASC.

Unless the context requires otherwise, references in this report to the "Company" refer to the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries.

The Business.

The Company quarries and markets sandstone and manages the operation of the Cleveland Quarries. The Cleveland Quarries produce a type of sandstone that is known in the industry as "Berea Sandstone." For more than 100 years, sandstone from the Cleveland Quarries has been utilized widely in the United States and Canada in such projects as the following:

Berea Sandstone has been used in the construction of numerous additional facilities over the past 100 years, including government buildings, banks, churches and prestigious private residential dwellings throughout the United States and Canada. One of the most current personal residences of note is that of Mr. William Gates in Seattle, Washington.

Industry Structure.

All natural stone products go through several stages prior to final use. The various stages can be defined as follows: (1) quarrying, which is the extraction of large blocks of stone; (2) primary processing, which involves sawing the large blocks into smaller blocks or large slabs; (3) secondary processing, which is the conversion of smaller blocks or slabs into finished product; and (4) installation, which involves assembling and installing finished product. The Company owns and operates its own quarries. The Company is also a primary processor, as it owns and operates its own slabbing mills. In addition, the Company has its own secondary processing mill. All three processes are performed at the Company's South Amherst location in Ohio.

Companies operate in diverse ways within the natural stone industry. They are usually involved in more than one of these disciplines. Companies operating at the ends of the process (i.e., the quarrying and installation) tend to locate geographically. Quarry operations locate where the raw material is found, and installers operate in the area in which the finished product is to be installed. Primary processors often locate at or near the quarries. For this reason, the same company is often involved in both the quarry and primary processing segment. Similarly, secondary processors locate at or near the installers' premises. Therefore, companies that do installation are also usually capable of secondary processing. Management believes that few companies operate in all segments of the industry.

The primary and secondary processing segments are the most mechanized and therefore the most capital intensive. The machinery can be very sophisticated and very expensive. There have been major advancements in quarry technology, and these operations are also becoming very capital intensive. These expenses have been a barrier to entry into these segments of the industry for many and, for those that have failed to keep up, it has been a factor creating adverse consequences.

This change is evidenced by the decline in the number of full-service (primary and secondary) competitors in the domestic market. Most new capital investment has occurred in Europe, India and China, with little occurring in North America. The Company believes that its investment in high-tech equipment will enable it to compete domestically with both domestic and foreign competitors.

Edgar Filing: AMERICAN STONE INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10KSB

Marketing Structure.

The market for dimensional stone products is served by many more companies than those involved in production and installation. They include government agencies, distributors, marketing agencies, architectural and engineering firms and designers. The company that has the closest contact with the final consumer is often most responsible for the sale of stone products. These other companies are often more important to the stone producer than the stone itself. The illustration below indicates how many layers are potentially between the end-user and the companies involved in the four levels of the stone industry. The additional layers between end-user and producer require a sophisticated marketing department capable of dealing with these companies. The marketing department may use in-house employees for estimating and drafting functions or form strategic alliances with outside companies that perform these functions.

-4-

For the period from 1999 to 2003, the Company's annual production of natural stone was as follows:

RAW STONE: -----	(TONS)
1999	13,662
2000	12,699
2001	16,855
2002	13,196
2003	11,588

Management currently intends to target the following segments:

Building Stone:

- Slabs
- Sills
- Steps

- Patio Stone
- Wallstone
- Landscaping
- Tile
- Cutstone

Employees.

The Company has approximately 26 full-time employees, of which about 19 are hourly. The average hourly wage of the quarry personnel is approximately $10.86 per hour. The quarries are situated in a geographic region that has a large labor pool, and Management does not believe that securing additional labor will be difficult or expensive. In Management's opinion, the Company has a positive relationship with its employees.

Competition.

The Company competes in the natural dimensional stone market. More specifically, the Company competes against limestones and other sandstones. The Company's two biggest competitors consist of Briar Hill Stone Co. (Glenmont, OH -- about 50 employees) and Indiana Limestone Company (Bedford, IN -- about 200 employees). When submitting proposals to provide Berea Sandstone to larger commercial sites, the Company competes with quarries throughout the United States and abroad.

The Company intends to compete within this environment utilizing a strategy that embodies the following:

- Ownership of what Management believes to be one of the largest sandstone reserves in the world, which provides the Company with access to the raw material;

-5-

- Access to a large supply of fresh water which is required to utilize diamond saw technology;
- A strategic geographic location from which the Company can serve about 66% of the domestic United States market within a

Edgar Filing: AMERICAN STONE INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10KSB

500 mile radius from the quarries;

- Low cost of raw materials; and
- High quality, attributed to the skilled labor pool, and the higher level of capital investment in equipment.

Marketing.

The marketing of the Company's products from Ohio is primarily done through an in-house sales staff and outside sales representatives. In addition, the Company is represented by distributors in the United States and Canada who deal directly with the end user by purchasing products from the Company at discounted rates and selling them to the end user at a markup.

The Company's historical market has been the United States and Canada. Within the United States, the Midwest and Northeast regions have traditionally accounted for more than 80% of the Company's sales in the United States. In Canada, the Company's sales have occurred almost exclusively in the Provinces of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia.

Business Strategy.

The Company intends to expand its current market and financial base through a business strategy that focuses on:

- Dedication to its core business, i.e., the Cleveland Quarries;
- Development of ancillary assets, i.e., the sale, lease or joint venture of surplus or nonessential lands.

Backlog.

As of December 31, 2003, the Company's backlog of orders was $250,000 as compared to a backlog of $400,000 at December 31, 2002.

Seasonality.

The Company's sales are cyclical in nature. Historically, the Company's sales have been highest during the second and third quarters, which usually account for more than 60% of the fiscal year's sales. The first quarter typically has the lowest sales due to inclement weather in the Northern Ohio region and the difficulty of operating a quarry in such an environment.

-6-

Intellectual Property/Proprietary Rights.

The Company holds copyrights in marketing materials and owns various trademarks. The Company does not believe that intellectual property is material to the operation of its business.

Regulation.

The Company's operations are subject to a variety of statutes, rules and regulations, which are applicable to any business operating in the United States. These statutes, rules and regulations range from record keeping (e.g., the duty to maintain tax-related records for specific time periods as required by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended) to employment (e.g., the duty to comply with the Equal Employment Opportunity Act of 1972).

Edgar Filing: AMERICAN STONE INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10KSB

Due to its quarry operations, the Company is also subject to certain more specific statutes, rules and regulations, the most significant of which include:

- Mines Safety and Health Act ("MSHA"), which mandates certain safety rules and regulations governing mining operations.
- Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 ("OSHA"), which generally requires that the Company provide its employees with a safe workplace.
- Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976 ("RCRA"), which prohibits the transportation and/or disposal of "hazardous waste" except pursuant to certain standards.
- Regulations of the Department of Transportation, which governs the safe transportation of goods over interstate highways.

In the opinion of Management, the Company is in compliance with all applicable regulations. Material changes in these regulations in all material respects or the adoption of new regulations could have a material impact on the operations of the Company.

Research and Development.

In the fiscal years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, the Company did not make any research and development expenditures.

Methods of Distribution and Costs of Transportation.

All of the Company's stone is shipped via flatbed truck paid F.O.B. at South Amherst.

-7-

ITEM 2. DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.

General.

The Company owns three separate parcels of land in the Counties of Lorain and Erie, Ohio. These properties contain stone with a variety of colors and properties. The Company holds permits for the two parcels that are used as quarries and both permits are in good standing.

The parcel in Erie County is in Birmingham Township, consists of approximately 186 acres, and contains the only Company quarry currently operating. Stone from this quarry is suitable to all end purposes of the Company's products and has a higher compressive strength than the stone quarried from the other Company quarries. Stone from this quarry is suitable not only for new projects but also for renovation, restoration or expansion of existing buildings. The Birmingham property also contains a supply of natural gas, which is leased to a local utility. There are no processing facilities on the Birmingham property.

The Company's main parcel is in Amherst Township (Lorain County), consists of approximately 979 acres, and is the site of six quarries, the mills and offices. The main parcel fronts the Ohio State Turnpike approximately twenty minutes west of downtown Cleveland. All of the quarries on the Lorain County land are currently unused and dormant.

Edgar Filing: AMERICAN STONE INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10KSB

In December 2002, the Company purchased approximately 150 acres of land in Lorain County, Ohio adjoining the Company's Lorain County parcel for $500,000. The promissory note issued by the Company for the purchase price also provides for a contingent payment described below under the caption "Encumbrances." The 150 acre parcel was purchased in order to control all contiguous properties.

In the opinion of management, all properties are adequately covered by insurance.

Reserve Information.

From approximately 1960 to 1992 the reserves of Cleveland Quarries were estimated by the then owner (Stancorp), which drilled samples of Berea Sandstone on the Company-owned properties. The reserve estimates were then calculated using the deposit area and observations of depth from the existing quarries. On the basis of the reserve estimates obtained by the previous owner, Management has estimated that dimensional stone reserves for the Birmingham property are 126 million recoverable cubic feet based on a deposit of at least 30 acres indicated by topographic studies and that the Lorain County property contains 210 million recoverable cubic feet of dimensional stone and 21 million recoverable cubic feet of construction stone. There are no reserves on the parcel of property purchased in December 2002. In summary, Management believes that the properties have a total estimated recoverable reserve in excess of 300 million cubic feet.

-8-

Usage for the past three years is as follows:

YEAR	EXTRACTED CU. FT.	SOLD CU. FT.
2001	240,000	97,800
2002	272,000	111,000
2003	165,708	89,787

Differences between cubic feet extracted and cubic feet sold are primarily the result of waste. The percentages of waste vary from year to year primarily because of differences in product mix. At current usage rates, the reserves far exceed any reasonable expectation of depletion.

Buildings.

The following is a list of the main buildings on the Lorain County property:

BUILDING	SIZE S.F.	YEAR BUILT	CURRENT USE	FUTURE USE

Encumbrances.

The Company's main parcel and the parcel in Erie County are subject to mortgages between the Company and Madison/Route 20 LLC in a loan amount of $900,000.

In connection with the purchase of 150 acres of land in December 2002, the Company granted a mortgage to the seller securing a promissory note due November 21, 2007 in the original principal amount of $500,000 plus fifty percent (50%) of the difference between the fair market value of the property and the purchase price of $500,000.

Equipment.

The Company's equipment consists of saws, cranes, trucks, tow motors, grinders, stone cutting equipment and haul tools. Older equipment is in the process of being overhauled, upgraded and replaced with new equipment.

Holdings and Dividends

As of March 10, 2004, there were 85 holders of record of the Common Stock of the Company. The Company has paid no dividends on the Common Stock and it is the Company's present intention to reinvest earnings internally to finance the expansion of its business. The Company's ability to pay dividends is limited by the Company's credit facility and is directly related to the Company's future profitability and need for capital to support its growth.

ITEM 6. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

(all amounts in thousands)

Following is a discussion of the principal factors that affected the Company's results of operations during each of the two most recent fiscal periods. This discussion should be read in conjunction with the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements included elsewhere in this report.

Company Overview and Outlook

American Stone Industries, Inc. is a holding company that mines and sells stone primarily for the building stone market through its wholly-owned subsidiary, American Stone Corporation. American Stone Corporation owns and operates the Cleveland Quarries in Amherst, Ohio. We produce dimensional stone which is cut to size as specified in architectural designs and primarily used as architectural accents to buildings. We also produce construction stone which is primarily used for road base, back fill and erosion control.

In January 2001, we created Amherst Stone at Cleveland Quarries, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary, to distribute our stone and other natural stone products directly to northern Ohio builders and landscapers. In December 2002 we decided to close Amherst Stone and consolidate the remaining activities into American Stone Corporation.

Looking forward, our immediate challenge is to increase our sales base and continue to improve our operating efficiencies while controlling costs so we can generate profitability and positive cash flow and strengthen our balance sheet. Cash remains tight, but as a result of new credit disciplines we have significantly reduced bad debt write-offs. 2004 started slowly due to the weather, which prevented us from quarrying stone all winter. However, we have ample saleable inventory on hand -- more than we have had in several years going into the spring season. We also judiciously invested in new equipment for the quarry in 2003 that we expect will improve productivity and reduce operating costs. The market continues to be soft, but we are cautiously optimistic. With some new marketing materials and a new sales team, we are now positioned to more actively pursue new business. If architectural project opportunities materialize as anticipated, we believe we can increase sales 25-30% over 2003 levels. We are confident we could handle such an increase in volume without adding to staff, assuming the workflow is reasonably spread out. At these higher volumes, we should be able to produce a profit in 2004.

2003 compared to 2002

Sales decreased $2,254, or 50%, from 2002 due to the closure of the Amherst Stone distribution business, unusually cold weather in early 2003 which adversely impacted our ability to pull stone from the quarry for most of the first quarter of 2003, being more selective in choosing jobs with higher profit potential and focusing on selling products that we produce from our own raw materials as opposed to reselling stone quarried by others.

Gross profit, as a percentage of sales, improved from a negative 10.9% in 2002 to a positive 22.1% in 2003 due choosing jobs with higher profit potential combined with cost reduction and productivity improvement programs. Also included in 2002 cost of goods sold was a $437 inventory write down.

Selling and administrative expenses decreased $715, or 58% in 2003 from 2002. Included in 2003 selling and administrative expense was a $223 benefit from forgiveness of debt from notes payable. Before this benefit, selling and administrative expenses decreased $492, or 40%, primarily due to cost reduction actions, the elimination of non-value added activities and the closure of our Amherst Stone operation in December 2002.

Interest expense increased $22, or 17% in 2003 compared to 2002 due primarily to increased average borrowing levels in 2003.

We did not record a benefit for income taxes in 2003. We have $6,500 of unused net operating loss carryforwards that may be applied against future taxable income. These carryforwards expire in various amounts from 2007 through 2023. Our ability to use the carryforwards will depend upon generating taxable income in the future. There are no assurances that we will be profitable in the future, and as a result we did not reflect a tax benefit in 2003 from the net loss.

The net loss in 2003 of $186 was significantly less than the net loss in 2002 of $1,860. The main drivers were significantly improved gross profit margins combined with significantly lower selling and administrative expenses, as previously discussed.

2002 compared to 2001

Sales increased $696, or 18% from 2001 due primarily from increased sales from Amherst Stone.

Gross profit, as a percentage of sales, decreased from 12.1% in 2001 to a negative 10.9% in 2002 due to under-pricing several restoration and architectural projects, inefficient operating procedures and the negative effect on operations of previously deferred maintenance. In addition, during the third quarter of 2002 we determined that approximately $445 of inventory was scrap and as a result we established a reserve of $437 for this inventory.

Selling and administrative expenses increased $252, or 25% due primarily to increased overhead related to Amherst Stone, including additional sales personnel, promotional materials and showroom expenses.

Interest expense declined by $7, or 5% due primarily to a decline in the prime interest rate on our line of credit.

We did not record a benefit for income taxes in 2002 due to having significant unused net operating loss carryforwards, as previously discussed.

The net loss in 2002 of $1,860 was significantly more than the net loss in 2001 of $665. The main drivers were lower gross profit margins combined with higher selling and administrative expenses, as previously discussed.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates, judgments and assumptions in certain circumstances that affect amounts reported in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. We evaluate the accounting policies and estimates we use to prepare financial statements on an ongoing basis. We base our estimates on historical experience and assumptions believed to be reasonable under the relevant circumstances. In preparing these financial statements, we have made our best estimates and judgments of certain amounts included in the financial statements related to the accounting policies and estimates described in the text that follows. The application of these critical accounting policies involves the exercise of judgment and the use of assumptions as to future uncertainties, and as a result, actual results could differ from these estimates. For additional information regarding our accounting policies, see Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003.

Goodwill

As of December 31, 2003, we had $26,661 of goodwill resulting from the acquisition of businesses. Effective January 1, 2002, we adopted SFAS No. 142 "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets," under which goodwill is no longer amortized but is tested for impairment annually (we have selected November 15), or more often, if an event or circumstance indicates that an impairment loss may have occurred. In making goodwill impairment assessments, we compare the fair value of the company with the company's carrying value. If the fair value of the company exceeds its carrying value, goodwill is considered not to be impaired. If the carrying value of the company exceeds its fair value, an impairment loss is measured and recognized.

As of the close of business on November 15, our common stock's latest closing value was $6.00 per share and we had 1,939,169 shares outstanding. Therefore, our total market value, or fair value, was $11,635,014. The carrying value of the company, represented by stockholders' equity, at September 30, 2003 (the last information as filed under form 10-QSB) was $612,992. Since the fair value exceeded the carrying value, we determined that goodwill was not impaired.

Land Depletion

Our estimate of land depletion is based on our estimate of remaining sandstone as determined from current and historical information. We evaluated the key factors and assumptions used to develop the land depletion estimate in determining that it is reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

Contingencies

We are subject to various investigations, claims, and legal and administrative proceedings covering a wide range of matters that arise in the ordinary course of business activities. Any liability that may result from these proceedings, and any liability that is judged to be probable and estimable, has been accrued. Any potential liability not accrued is not currently expected to have a material adverse effect on our future financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

-14-

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES (all amounts in thousands)

As of December 31, 2003 we had cash and cash equivalents totaling $284. During 2003 we had a line of credit with maximum borrowings of $500. This line of credit was paid off and closed before December 31, 2003.

As of December 31, 2003 our current portion of long-term debt was $1,506, which represents the principal portion of our debt that is due to be repaid by December 31, 2004. These debt maturities will need to be extended or refinanced during 2004 in order for us to be able to continue to fund operations and meet our obligations. Profitable operations in 2004 will be an important factor in helping us to extend or refinance these obligations.

Capital spending in 2004 is currently estimated at between $50 and $100, primarily for equipment needed to maintain operations.

At December 31, 2002 we were in violation of certain covenants of our bank line of credit agreement, but we had obtained waivers from the bank. However, at December 31, 2003 none of our borrowing arrangements contained covenants, and we do not believe we were in default with respect to any other financial arrangement, nor were we subject to any unsatisfied judgments, liens or settlement obligations.

We have experienced significant operating losses over the previous three years. As a result, we have had cash flow and liquidity problems. We have taken steps to reduce administrative overhead, employment levels and other expenses, have instituted strict controls over granting credit to customers and have put new sales policies and procedures into place. There can be no assurances that these measures will enable us to become profitable or achieve positive cash flow in the foreseeable future. We are also currently exploring additional long term funding sources, including debt placement, stock issuance and other alternatives.

The following table summarizes our obligations related to long-term debt and operating leases as of December 31, 2003:

	Long Term Debt	Operating Leases	Total
	-----	-----	-----
Due in less than 1 year	$1,506	$ 13	$1,519
1-3 years	1,300	4	1,304

AMERICAN STONE INDUSTRIES, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES
 NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
 DECEMBER 31, 2003 AND 2002

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This summary of significant accounting policies of American Stone Industries, Inc. and Subsidiaries, (hereinafter "ASI" or the "Company") is presented to assist in understanding the financial statements. The financial statements and notes are representations of the Company's management, which is responsible for their integrity and objectivity. These accounting policies conform to generally accepted accounting principles and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the financial statements.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Edgar Filing: AMERICAN STONE INDUSTRIES INC - Form 10KSB

Business Activity

American Stone Industries, Inc. (a Delaware corporation) is a publicly-held company whose stock is traded on the OTC Bulletin Board. American Stone Industries, Inc. ("ASI") is a holding company that mines and sells stone predominantly for the building stone market through its wholly owned subsidiary, American Stone Corporation ("ASC"). ASC owns and operates the Cleveland Quarries in Amherst, Ohio.

In January of 2001, the Company created a wholly-owned subsidiary, known as Amherst Stone at Cleveland Quarries, Inc. (Amherst Stone) to act as a distributor directly to northern Ohio builders and landscapers. The Company intended Amherst Stone to act as a full-time supplier of Cleveland Quarries sandstone and other natural stone products. In December 2002, the Company decided to consolidate the activities of Amherst Stone into its ASC operations.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of financial reporting, the Company considers all highly-liquid debt instruments purchased with an original maturity date of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Accounts Receivable

Credit is granted to only qualified domestic customers. The allowance for doubtful accounts is calculated using the Company's prior bad debt experience and current estimates of uncollectible accounts.

Revenue Recognition

Revenues are recorded when products are shipped to customers or, in instances where products are configured to customer requirements, upon the successful completion of the Company's final test procedures. The Company is generally not contractually obligated to accept returns, except for defective product. An allowance for such returns is reflected as a reduction to accounts receivable when the Company expects to grant credits for such items; otherwise it is reflected as a liability.

Stock Options

The Company uses the intrinsic-value method of accounting for stock-based awards granted to employees and, accordingly, does not currently recognize compensation expense for its stock-based awards to employees in the Consolidated Statements of Income.

The Company maintains the 1998 Management Stock Option Plan (management plan). Options granted under the management plan may be either incentive stock options or non-statutory stock options. The options expire on the fifth anniversary of the date of grant with remaining terms to be determined by the sole discretion of a committee of members of the Company's Board of Directors. The management plan provides that the Company may grant options (generally at fair market value at the date of grant) for not more than 300,000 shares of common stock to management employees. Options granted are generally exercisable beginning one year after the date of grant. At December 31, 2003 and 2002, 70,000 and 10,000 options, respectively, with exercise prices ranging from $3.35 to $5.00 were outstanding. At December 31, 2003 and 2002, -0- and 10,000 options, respectively, were exercisable.

Additionally, the Company maintains the 1998 Non-Employee Director Stock Option Plan (director plan). The director plan provides for the granting of stock options to members of the Board of Directors who are not employees of the Company. There are 300,000 shares available for grant under the plan. Each option is exercisable one year after the date of grant and expires five years after the date of grant. Each eligible director receives an option to purchase 1,500 shares (3,000 shares for the Board's Chairman) of common stock on the date of the annual meeting and 150 shares (300 shares for the Board's Chairman) of common stock for each Director or Committee meeting attended. Each option shall be at fair market value on the date of the grant. At December 31, 2003, 112,904 shares with exercise prices ranging from $2.37 to $9.50 ($5.62 weighted average) were outstanding, 96,554 of which were exercisable. At December 31, 2002, 110,954 shares with exercise prices ranging from $2.37 to $9.50 ($5.77 weighted average) were outstanding, 88,200 of which were exercisable.

The Company has elected to follow Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees" (APBO No. 25), and related interpretations, in accounting for its stock options because, as discussed below, the alternative fair value accounting provided for under Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation" (SFAS No. 123), requires use of highly subjective assumptions in option valuation models. Under APBO No. 25, because the exercise price of the Company's stock option granted is not less than fair market price of the shares at the date of grant, no compensation is recognized in the financial statements.

Pro forma information regarding net income and earnings per share, determined as if the Company had accounted for its employee stock options under the fair value method of SFAS No. 123, is required by that statement. The fair value for these options was estimated at the date of grant using a Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following assumptions for all options granted: a risk free interest rate of 1.02% and 1.24% for 2003 and 2002, respectively, expected life of the options of five years, no expected dividend yield and a volatility factor of 10%. Additionally, a marketability discount of 50% has been assumed for 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Reclassifications

Certain reclassifications have been made in the 2002 financial statements to conform to the 2003 presentation.

Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial instruments, which potentially subject the Company to concentration of credit risk, principally consist of accounts receivable. The Company's policies do not require collateral to support customer accounts receivables. No concentrations existed for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002.

Income Per Common Share
