To vote by proxy, complete, sign and return the enclosed proxy card by mail to the address stated on your proxy card. You may also vote by telephone or over the Internet by following the instructions on your proxy card.

IN PERSON You may vote your shares by attending the meeting and voting your shares in person. The meeting is being held at the offices of Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson LLP, the address of which is indicated in the foregoing Notice to Shareholders.

Even if you plan to attend the meeting, we encourage you to vote your shares by proxy. This will enable us to receive votes in advance of the meeting to ensure that a quorum (defined below) is present for the meeting.

Changing Your Vote

If you vote by proxy and subsequently decide to change your vote, you may revoke your proxy at any time before the polls close at the meeting. However, you may only do this by signing another proxy with a later date, completing a written notice of revocation and returning it to the address on the proxy card before the meeting; or voting in person at the meeting.

Abstentions and broker non-votes shall also be counted in determining whether a quorum is present.

Effect of not Providing Voting Instructions

If your shares are held in the name of a brokerage firm and you have not provided your broker with voting instructions, the brokerage firm may vote your shares under certain circumstances. New York Stock Exchange rules allow brokers to vote your shares without your instructions only on routine matters, such as the election of directors and ratification of the appointment of auditors (broker non-votes). On non-routine matters, such as those that change the rights of your shares, the brokerage firm may not vote your shares unless they receive voting instructions from you.

Table of Contents

ABOUT THE MEETING AND VOTING

If you hold your shares directly in your own name, they will not be voted if you do not provide a proxy or vote the shares yourself. Proxies that are signed and returned but do not contain instructions will be voted FOR the items of business described in the proxy.

How to Vote on Proposal 1

A majority of shares present at the meeting and entitled to vote must vote FOR the election of each director. Votes cast shall include votes for or against a director. An abstention or broker non-vote shall not count as a vote cast with respect to a director.

How to Vote on Proposal 2

A majority of shares present at the meeting and entitled to vote must vote FOR the appointment of PricewaterhouseCoopers as the company's independent registered public accounting firm for the proposal to be ratified. A properly executed proxy card marked abstain with respect to this proposal will not be voted. Accordingly, abstentions will have the effect of a vote against this proposal.

For purposes of determining whether the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast at the meeting and entitled to vote has been obtained, abstentions will be included in, and broker non-votes will be excluded from, the number of shares present and entitled to vote.

No Dissenters' Rights

In the event of certain corporate actions, such as a merger subject to shareholder approval, shareholders have the right to dissent from such action and obtain payment of the fair value of his/her shares. This is referred to as dissenters' rights. The proposals in this proxy statement do not give rise to dissenters' rights.

If you have received more than one proxy card, you have multiple accounts with brokers and/or our transfer agent. Please vote all of these shares. We recommend that you contact your broker and/or our transfer agent to consolidate as many accounts as possible under the same name and address. BOARD OF DIRECTORS GENERAL INFORMATION

Responsibility of the Board of Directors

It is the responsibility of the Board of Directors to establish and monitor the company's internal governance practices and work towards the long-term success of the company. All actions of the company's Board of Directors, executive officers and employees are governed by the company's code of conduct. No waiver of the code of conduct by an executive officer or director was approved by the board in 2006. A copy of the code of conduct is available at www.mt.com on the Investor Relations/Corporate Governance web page and is available in print to any shareholder who requests it.

Corporate Governance Guidelines

The board has established corporate governance guidelines that contribute to the overall operating framework of the board and the company. These guidelines cover topics including director qualifications and the director nomination process, the responsibilities of directors, including with respect to leadership development and management succession, meetings of non-management directors, and director compensation. The guidelines are available on the company's web site at www.mt.com on the Investor Relations/Corporate Governance web page and are available in print to any shareholder who requests them.

Composition of the Board; Presiding (Lead) Director

In accordance with the company's by-laws, the board consists of between five and ten directors, with the exact number currently fixed at eight. Each director holds a one-year term until the next annual meeting of shareholders. The board has established the position of Presiding Director, who oversees executive sessions of the non-management directors and all meetings of directors at which the Chairman is not present. The Presiding Director also coordinates with the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee relating to director nominations as described in the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee report below. Mr. Salice is currently serving as the Presiding Director.

The board has three committees:

- (i) the Audit Committee;
- (ii) the Compensation Committee; and
- (iii) the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee.

Minimum Qualifications for Directors

Members of the Board of Directors must demonstrate integrity, reliability, knowledge of corporate affairs, and an ability to work well together. Diversity in business background, area of expertise, gender and ethnicity are also considered when selecting board nominees. Additional details are contained in the company's corporate governance guidelines available at www.mt.com on the Investor Relations/Corporate Governance web page.

Independence of the Board

The board uses the following criteria in evaluating independence: (i) independence under the rules of the New York Stock Exchange; and (ii) no relationships with the company (other than as a director or shareholder) or only immaterial relationships. The board solicits information from directors as to any relationship the director or his immediate family member has with the company that might affect the director's independence. The board also evaluates directors' independence pursuant to current NYSE rules.

In light of these criteria, the board has determined that Messrs. Chu, Contino, Dickson, Geier, Maerki, Milne and Salice are independent under the rules of the New York Stock Exchange and either have no relationships with the company (other than as director and shareholder) or have only immaterial relationships with the company.

Table of Contents

BOARD OF DIRECTORS GENERAL INFORMATION

Mr. Spoerry, Chairman of the Board, is not independent under the rules of the New York Stock Exchange, as he is also the company's President and Chief Executive Officer.

The Board of Directors has determined that the following types of relationships are categorically immaterial:

Commercial business relationships where METTLER TOLEDO buys from or sells to companies where directors serve as employees, or where their immediate family members serve as executive officers, and where the annual purchases or sales are less than the greater of $1 million or 2% of either company's consolidated gross revenues.

Meeting of Non-Management Directors

The board schedules regular executive sessions for its non-management members, typically as part of each board meeting. The Presiding Director acts as chairman of these meetings.

Director Attendance at Board Meetings and the Annual Meeting

The board expects that its members will attend all meetings of the board. The Board of Directors met six times in 2006. Each director attended at least 75% of all board and committee meetings of which the director is a member, except Mr. Geier who missed two board and Compensation Committee meetings due to health problems. Mr. Geier is expected to be able to attend all meetings again in 2007.

The company expects that all directors will attend the annual meeting of shareholders. All directors attended the 2006 annual meeting of shareholders.

Director Compensation

Non-employee directors are compensated by an annual cash retainer, committee member fees, and per meeting fees for board and committee meetings attended. The board and its committees sometimes forego per meeting fees at their discretion, for example for shorter or telephonic meetings. AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

The Audit Committee assists the board in overseeing the accounting and financial reporting processes of the company. The Audit Committee operates pursuant to a written charter, a copy of which can be found on the company's website at www.mt.com. The committee is responsible for overseeing the accounting and financial reporting processes of the company and audits of the financial statements of the company. In discharging its oversight role, the Audit Committee discussed the audited financial statements contained in the 2006 annual report separately with the company's independent registered public accounting firm and the company's management and reviewed the company's internal controls and financial reporting.

The company's independent registered public accounting firm, PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC), is responsible for auditing the company's consolidated financial statements as well as the company's internal control over financial reporting. PwC issues opinions as to (1) whether the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the company and its subsidiaries in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; (2) management's assessment that the company maintained effective internal control over financial reporting; and (3) whether the company maintained, in all material respects, effective control over financial reporting.

Audited Financial Statements

In reviewing the company's audited financial statements with the independent registered public accounting firm, the Audit Committee discussed with PwC the matters required to be discussed by the Auditing Standards Board Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, as amended, and other matters including, without limitation:

PwC's responsibilities under generally accepted auditing standards, including the nature and scope of their audits;

the written disclosures and confirming letter from PwC regarding their independence required under the Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1;

significant accounting policies, such as revenue recognition, goodwill and other intangible assets, and income taxes;

management judgments and accounting estimates;

any material weaknesses and significant deficiencies in internal controls over financial reporting; and the extent of any significant accounting adjustments.

In reviewing the company's audited financial statements with the company's management, the Audit Committee discussed the same topics listed above with management, including, without limitation, the process used by management in formulating accounting estimates and the reasonableness of those estimates.

Based on the review and discussions referred to above, the Audit Committee recommended to the Board of Directors, and the board approved, that the audited financial statements be included in the company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006.

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

Other Fees No significant other services were performed by PwC for the company in 2006 or 2005.

The Audit Committee has determined that PwC's provision of the services included in the categories Tax Fees and Other Fees is compatible with maintaining PwC's independence. All non-audit services were approved in advance by the Audit Committee pursuant to the procedures described below.

Audit Committee Approval of Non-Audit Services

The Audit Committee approves all non-audit services provided by PwC in accordance with the following framework:

If the project is in an approved category and less than $50,000 in fees, it is considered pre-approved by the Audit Committee. Specific projects in excess of this amount and any potential projects not included in the pre-approval framework are presented to the full Audit Committee for their advance approval.

On a quarterly basis, PwC reports all non-audit projects outside of the pre-approval framework to the Audit Committee and any proposals for non-audit services in the upcoming quarter.

All non-audit fees are reviewed at least annually by the Audit Committee.

The independent registered public accounting firm must ensure that all audit and non-audit services provided to the company have been approved by the Audit Committee. Each year, the company's management and the independent registered public accounting firm confirm to the Audit Committee that every non-audit service being proposed is permissible and estimate a budget for the next year's non-audit services.

NOMINATING AND CORPORATE GOVERNANCE COMMITTEE REPORT

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee assists the board in identifying and recommending individuals to be nominated for election to the Board of Directors by shareholders. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee operates pursuant to a written charter, a copy of which can be found on the company's website at www.mt.com. The committee is responsible for advising the board on the structure and membership of committees of the board as well as developing corporate governance guidelines applicable to the operation of the company. We describe below the process established by the committee to nominate directors to the Board of Directors as well as some of the recent corporate governance activities undertaken by the committee.

Director Nomination Process

When there is an actual or anticipated board vacancy, candidates for the Board of Directors may be recommended by (i) any member of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, (ii) other board members, (iii) third parties engaged for that purpose by the committee, and/or (iv) the company's shareholders. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee will consider candidates recommended by shareholders and evaluate them in the same manner as other candidates. Shareholders interested in recommending a person to be a director of the company must make such recommendation in writing. The recommendation must be forwarded to the Secretary of the company at: Mettler-Toledo International Inc., Im Langacher, CH-8606 Greifensee, Switzerland. Shareholder recommendations must include the information and be sent within the time-frames specified in the company's by-laws, a copy of which can be obtained from the Secretary. Additional details regarding minimum qualifications for director nominees can be found in the corporate governance guidelines on the company's website at www.mt.com.

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee follows the following process in nominating candidates for a position on the company's Board of Directors.

- (1) The committee begins by working with the Presiding Director and Chairman of the Board to determine the specific qualifications, qualities and skills that are desired for potential candidates to fill the vacancy on the board. The committee makes this determination based upon the current composition of the board, the specific needs of the company and the Minimum Qualifications for Directors included in the corporate governance guidelines.
- (2) The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, Presiding Director and Chairman of the Board will then compile a list of all candidates recommended to fill the vacancy on the board. Candidates who meet the desired qualifications, qualities and skills will be required to complete a questionnaire that solicits information regarding the candidates' background, experience, independence and other information.
- (3) All members of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, the Presiding Director, the Chairman of the Board and, in appropriate cases, other board members will interview those candidates who have completed the questionnaire.
- (4) Following these interviews, the full Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee considers the qualifications of each candidate to ensure that each candidate meets the specific qualities and skills that are desired. The committee will forward to the Board of Directors for consideration a list of candidates qualified for the position.

With regard to the current board nominees, the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee has evaluated the qualifications and contributions of each of the board nominees and has recommended to the board that the eight current directors be nominated for re-election.

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

The Compensation Committee oversees compensation of the company's executive officers. In carrying out its duties, the Compensation Committee receives information and recommendations from the Head of Human Resources and the Chief Executive Officer, and consults with outside compensation consultants as it deems appropriate. The objectives of the company's executive compensation programs are as follows:

We operate globally and compete to attract and keep the best talent. Total compensation must be competitive in the global personnel market in which we operate.

Compensation should be transparent and performance should be objectively measured.

We believe in a strong link between pay and performance. We set challenging targets for ourselves, and compensation is designed to reward overachievement of targets. At the same time, when performance is only at or below target, compensation tends to be below market.

One of our primary goals is to create shareholder value, and we seek to tie a significant portion of executive compensation to this objective. We do this in part by linking long-term compensation to the company's long-term performance.

We also encourage executives to be company shareholders.

The company's compensation program consists of three main elements: base salary, an annual cash bonus and long-term incentive compensation (stock options). Although executive officers participate in certain defined contribution pension plans, the contributions do not form a substantial part of total compensation. We do not believe in providing special benefits to executives, and are conservative regarding perquisites. In sum, our goal is ensure that the three main elements of compensation are carefully considered and fair, and that executives are motivated to further the interests of shareholders.

Each year the Compensation Committee separately reviews each of the three elements, as well as total compensation, taking into account the company's growth and performance, individual executive performance, and developments in the markets in which we compete for talent. In evaluating the competitiveness of executive compensation, the Compensation Committee periodically conducts both broad based surveys and surveys of the salaries of executives in the instruments and electronics industries, including companies in SIC Code 3826 (Laboratory Analytical Instruments). The Compensation Committee has also reviewed peer company executive compensation at Agilent Technologies, Applera Corp Applied Biosys, Beckman Coulter, Bio-Rad Laboratories, Fisher Scientific, Millipore, Pall, PerkinElmer, Thermo Electron (together with Fisher Scientific now ThermoFisher Scientific), Varian and Waters.

Base Salary

The company's goal is to pay average base salaries that are at or below the median. Based on broad based and peer company surveys, we believe base salaries for executive officers are generally lower than those at peer companies. Although a certain base salary is necessary and appropriate, we believe the majority of executive compensation should be paid in ways that link pay with performance. We accomplish this through the annual cash bonus and long-term incentives.

Annual Cash Bonus

We link pay with performance through our bonus plan, called POBS Plus (Performance Oriented Bonus System). The purpose of the bonus plan is to provide an incentive to key employees of the company to dedicate themselves to the financial success of the company as measured based on objective financial criteria. The bonus plan is administered by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors. By no later than the end of the first quarter of each year, the Compensation Committee establishes the performance targets on which each participant's incentive is based. Performance targets are closely related to that fiscal year's budget and business plan and may be based upon any one or more of the following financial criteria: earnings per share, cash flow, operating profit of business areas, sales of the company and/or its business areas, inventory turnover of the company and/or its business areas, and days sales outstanding of business areas. In addition, between 5 and 15 percent of the bonus for each participant is based on individual objective performance targets relating to the company's annual business objectives. The CFO's targets include targets relating to the company's financial systems and controls. After the conclusion of each year, the Compensation Committee reviews the audited results of the company's performance against each participant's performance targets and determines the incentive payment, if any, earned by each participant. The Compensation Committee has discretion to exclude certain items, both positive and negative, from their assessment of target achievement.

The bonus plan provides for payment of a cash bonus to participants calculated by reference to the performance targets. For each participant, a cash bonus will become payable following achievement of at least 90% of the target level. For each full percentage point of target achievement above 90% and up to a maximum of 120% for individual performance targets and 130% for the company performance targets, a cash bonus of from 2.5% to 7.5% of the base salary of the participant is payable, for a total maximum potential bonus of between 100% and 300% of base salary. Within 90 days of the close of each calendar year, the percentage of base salary between 2.5% and 7.5% to be used in calculating the bonus is established for each participant by the Compensation Committee. The plan provides that targets for 100% achievement should be challenging and ambitious, but also realistic and attainable such that it is possible to achieve and exceed them. Over-achievement under the bonus plan can result in above-median total cash compensation even though base salary may be below the median.

The financial targets used relate closely to our annual plan and budget, which are approved by the full Board of Directors each year. The annual plan and budget is set taking into account the economic environment, the health of the company's end-user markets, and the challenges and opportunities of the company's various businesses. In 2006, the primary group financial targets were earnings per share, net cash flow, inventory turnover and group sales.

The range of actual 2006 bonuses that could be earned by the named executive officers under the POBS Plus plan is set out in the following tables. The maximum bonus that could have been earned by an executive in 2006 was $1,572,553 in Mr. Sperry's case.

Range of Bonus Possible (as a % of Base Salary)

Position	90% Target Achievement	100% Target Achievement	130% (Max.) Achievement
CEO	0	50.0%	171.25%
Other named executive officers	0	45.0%	161.25%

Range of Bonus Possible (in $)

Position	90% Target Achievement	100% Target Achievement	130% (Max.) Achievement
-----------------	---------------------------------------	------------------------------------	------------------------------------

Robert F. Spoerry	0	$	459,140	$	1,572,553
William P. Donnelly	0		148,500		532,125
Olivier A. Filliol	0		159,874		572,882
Beat Luethi	0		154,538		553,760
Urs Widmer	0		116,495		417,441

The impact of over- or under-achieving targets on the annual bonus can be significant. The company and Board of Directors therefore approach the target setting process with care and consideration. We believe targets are set consistently with the philosophy of the POBS Plan that they be challenging and ambitious. Over the last several years, the average target achievement for executive officers has ranged from slightly below 100% to approximately 125%, resulting in bonuses of between approximately 30% to 155% of base salary.

Long-Term Incentives

Another method we have historically used to link pay with performance is awarding stock options, which we believe aligns management's interests with those of the company's shareholders. When the company performs well, the value of executive officers' incentive compensation increases. When the company does not perform well, the value of incentive awards is reduced. Our stock options vest over five years, 20% per year, starting on the first anniversary of the date of grant. Options generally have a term of ten years, except for certain grants to Swiss residents having terms of six years and ten and a half years, respectively.

The Compensation Committee determines the size of stock option grants with reference to the other two elements of compensation, the individual executive's scope of responsibility and performance, total compensation, cost to the company and competitive market data.

The Compensation Committee believes that past performance is just one factor to take into account in determining the size of future awards. In line with our philosophy of rewarding for performance, if the interests of shareholders have been and continue to be served, it is appropriate for management to continue to be awarded long-term incentives.

Option Grant Practices and Policy

The Compensation Committee undertook a review in 2006 of the company's historical option grants, and believes that all grants were properly made. The Compensation Committee approves all option grants. Option grants are typically made once each year on the date of the Compensation Committee meeting at which the overall annual compensation review takes place (typically in late October or early November each year). The Compensation Committee meeting dates are set up to two years in advance, and the option grants are made on the meeting date. In the past, the Committee has also made initial grants to individual executive officers at the time they started serving as executive officers.

All options have an exercise price equal to the closing price of the company's shares on the New York Stock Exchange on the date of grant.

Stock Ownership Policy

We encourage all executives to be direct shareholders. The Compensation Committee periodically evaluates whether to implement a stock ownership requirement or other holding requirement for directors or executive officers. To date, the Committee has not implemented such a policy. The Compensation Committee feels it is important for senior executives to have a significant portion of their ongoing compensation tied to the interests of shareholders. All of the directors and most of the executive officers are already direct shareholders, and all executive officers have the large majority of their company compensation tied to stock options. The Compensation Committee believes that implementing an ownership policy is not necessary under the circumstances, and would not enhance management's motivation or performance.

Swiss Pension Plan

The Swiss-based executive officers (each of the named executive officers except Mr. Donnelly) participate in a Swiss pension plan called Mettler-Toledo Fonds, which is a cash balance benefit (or pension) plan. Each year we contribute to the plan 22% of each participating named executive officer's covered salary. The covered salary is equal to between 106% and 116% of base salary, and is capped by Swiss law at a maximum of SFr. 774,000 in 2006 and SFr. 795,600 in 2007. Individual employees may also make their own direct contributions to the plan from their own funds.

Amounts in the plan bear interest depending on the annual performance of the pension plan, but not less than the minimum rate set by Swiss law, which is currently 2.5% per annum. Retirement benefits are paid in the form of a lump-sum payment when the employee reaches the normal retirement age under the plan of 65.

Table of Contents

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The change in Swiss law capping the covered salary at Sfr. 774,000 had the effect of reducing the amount the company paid into the pension plan for Mr. Spoerry by approximately Sfr. 106,000 from Sfr. 275,875. To make up for this reduction and in line with the company's employment agreement with Mr. Spoerry, the Compensation Committee made a one-time increase to Mr. Spoerry's base salary by approximately Sfr. 70,000. This increase, when taken with the corresponding increase in Mr. Spoerry's target bonus, partially offsets the loss to Mr. Spoerry resulting from the change in Swiss law and leaves his pre-tax income approximately equivalent. In reaching this agreement, Mr. Spoerry agreed to forego the Swiss tax benefit of the lost pension contributions in 2006 and future years.

Tax Treatment

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code prohibits the company from deducting compensation in excess of $1 million paid to certain employees, generally its CEO and its four other most highly compensated executive officers, unless that compensation qualifies as performance-based compensation. We seek to balance the need to fairly compensate the company's executive officers with the company's ability to deduct compensation pursuant to Section 162(m).

Tax Equalization Agreements (Swiss Executives)

The company is a party to tax equalization agreements with Messrs. Spoerry, Filliol, Luethi and Widmer, who are non-U.S. citizens and non-U.S. residents and who pay income tax on their earnings in Switzerland. The individuals do not receive any cash benefit from the agreements, the principle of which is to leave the employee in exactly the same position (i.e., no better and no worse off) than if they had not become subject to incremental US taxation on a portion of their income. Under the tax equalization agreements, the company has agreed to pay taxes borne by these executives in respect of incremental taxation being due in the United States by virtue of their work for the company there. Because the individuals are left no better and no worse off than had they not become subject to US taxation, the Compensation Committee does not believe it is appropriate to take into account the US taxes paid by the company under the tax equalization agreements when determining the employees' compensation each year.

Changes in 2006 Compensation

The Compensation Committee increased Mr. Spoerry's base salary by 4% over the prior year, taking into account a review of salaries at peer companies and reflecting Mr. Spoerry's performance. The 4% figure excludes the effect of the one-time increase in Mr. Spoerry's base salary made to adjust for the 2006 change in Swiss pension law described above.

Based on a similar review process, the Compensation Committee increased the base salaries of Messrs. Donnelly, Filliol, Luethi and Widmer by 6.3%, 3.0%, 3.5%, 1.5% respectively.

Based on the quality of leadership of Mr. Spoerry and the management team, and the overall performance of the company, the committee believes management's compensation is appropriate.

- (1) All amounts shown were paid in Swiss francs, except amounts paid to Mr. Donnelly and U.S. tax equalization payments, which were paid in U.S. dollars. For purposes of this table, amounts paid in Swiss francs were converted to U.S. dollars at a rate of SFr. 1.2548 to $1.00, the average exchange rate in 2006.
- (2) Represents the compensation cost recognized by the company in 2006 pursuant to FAS 123R relating to stock option awards. The valuation assumptions associated with such awards are discussed Note 10 to the company's financial statements included in the Form 10-K for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2006.
- (3) Amounts shown are the annual cash bonus earned for 2006 under the company's POBS Plus (Performance Oriented Bonus System) bonus plan.
- (4) Includes pension contributions, tax equalization payments, and other miscellaneous benefits. The company's contributions to the Mettler-Toledo Fonds, a Swiss cash balance benefit (or pension) plan, (in Mr. Donnelly's case, the company matching payments under its 401(k) plan) are itemized below and described in more detail in the Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Table presented later in this proxy statement.

The tax equalization payments are itemized below. As described in the Compensation Discussion and Analysis, the individuals do not receive any cash benefit from these payments. The principle of the tax equalization is to leave the employee in exactly the same position (i.e., no better and no worse) than if they had not become subject to US taxation on a portion of their income. As such, the Compensation Committee does not believe it is appropriate to include these tax equalization amounts when determining the employees' compensation each year.

Miscellaneous benefits, none of which individually exceeds $25,000 in value, include car allowances, expense allowances, tax return preparation, and the value of meals in the company cafeteria. In Mr. Donnelly's case, they also include access to a company-rented apartment in Columbus in lieu of his staying in a hotel there and the dollar value of life insurance premiums paid by the company.

Employment Agreements

The company is a party to employment agreements with each of the named executive officers. These agreements provide for a base salary subject to adjustment and participation in our bonus plan and other employee benefit plans. Each agreement prohibits the executive from competing with the company for a period of 12 months after termination of employment (24 months in the case of Mr. Spoerry). The agreements may be terminated without cause on six months' notice for Messrs. Filliol and Widmer, 12 months' notice for Messrs. Donnelly and Lüthi, and 36 months notice for Mr. Spoerry, during which periods the executive is entitled to full compensation under the agreement, including payment of base salary, target bonus, and continuation of benefits.

(1) This table omits the columns Estimated Future Payouts Under Non-Equity Incentive Plan Awards. Payments under non-equity incentive plan awards include the company's annual cash bonus under the company's POBS Plus (Performance Oriented Bonus System) bonus plan. The threshold, target and maximum bonuses theoretically achievable under the POBS Plus bonus plan are described above under Annual Cash Bonus. The actual bonus earned with respect to 2006 is included in the Summary Compensation Table above. Each of the option awards vests in five equal annual installments starting on the first anniversary of the date of grant.

(2) The grant date fair value of the options granted of $21.37 per share has been calculated using the Black-Scholes option pricing model, based upon the following assumptions: estimated time until exercise of five years; a risk-free interest rate of 4.55%; a volatility rate of 25%; and a zero dividend yield. The Black-Scholes option pricing model is only one method of valuing options. The actual value of the options may significantly differ, and depends on the excess of the market value of the common stock over the exercise price at the time of exercise.

- (2) The named executive officers are not entitled to any additional compensation from the company upon a termination for cause or relating to disability, or upon death or retirement. In a termination for cause, each employee forfeits vested as well as unvested stock options. US-based employees have company-provided life insurance paying one time their annual compensation (up to $500,000) upon the employee's death during employment. In Mr. Donnelly's case, the insured amount is $500,000.
- (3) In all other terminations (including not for cause or for good reason), the individual is entitled to base salary, bonus and certain benefits for the contractual notice period in their respective employment agreement. Pursuant to the operation of our equity plans applicable to all employees, the individual is also entitled to additional option vesting during the notice period; provided, that if the individual gives notice of termination (voluntary termination), the individual is not entitled to additional option vesting from the date of giving notice for all options granted starting in 2002.
