XL CAPITAL'S STATEMENT CONCERNING
THE TRAGIC EVENTS IN THE UNITED STATES

Edgar Filing: XL CAPITAL LTD - Form 8-K

HAMILTON, BERMUDA (October 4, 2001) - XL Capital Ltd (NYSE: XL) ("XL" or the "Company") announced today that its estimate of gross claims related to the September 11th attack on the United States is approximately $1.8 billion. XL's preliminary estimate of claims arising from the attack is expected to be up to $700 million, net of reinsurance recoveries, which is within the range previously disclosed by XL.

Mr. Brian M. O'Hara, President and Chief Executive Officer of XL, stated: "Although we are confident about our prospects, the third quarter of 2001 has been the worst in the history of the property and casualty insurance industry. In addition to our claims resulting from the attack on the United States, our third quarter results will include a provision of approximately $100 million for other events, including the results of newly-acquired Winterthur International and losses stemming from the airport attack in Sri Lanka, the recent explosion in Toulouse, France, and our Lloyd's operations."

Details of XL's reinsurance recoverables pertaining to the September 11th event are set forth in the following table indicating that 96 percent of the relevant reinsurers currently fall into Standard & Poor's rating categories of A or better.

Reinsurance Recoverables
Rating Category	September 11 Events
AAA	26%
AA	39
A	31

	96%
Other	4%
	100%

The foregoing table reflects estimates only and is based on Standard & Poor's ratings of reinsurers as currently in effect and does not reflect potential ratings actions that may be taken in the future with respect to any reinsurer.

The foregoing information will be included in the XL presentation at the Bermuda Angle Conference at the Fairmont Southampton Princess Hotel in Bermuda commencing at 8.00 a.m. Atlantic time (7.00 a.m. EST) on October 4th.

There will be a live audio webcast and simultaneous slide presentation that can be accessed through the agenda page of the Bermuda Angle website () and will be available until October 18, 2001. There will also be a link to the audio webcast from the XL website (). It will be archived for approximately 30 days following the presentation.

The Company expects to announce its third quarter earnings the week of October 22nd.

XL Capital Ltd, through its operating subsidiaries, is a leading provider of insurance and reinsurance coverages and financial products to industrial, commercial and professional service firms, insurance companies, and other enterprises on a worldwide basis. As at June 30, 2001,

Edgar Filing: XL CAPITAL LTD - Form 8-K

XL had consolidated assets of approximately $18.7 billion and consolidated shareholders' equity of approximately $5.7 billion.

This press release contains forward-looking statements which involve inherent risks and uncertainties. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements about XL's beliefs, plans or expectations, are forward-looking statements. These statements are based on current plans, estimates and expectations. Actual results may differ materially from those projected in such forward-looking statements and therefore you should not place undue reliance on them. A non-exclusive list of the important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those in such forward-looking statements includes the following: (a) the size of XL's claims may change due to the preliminary nature of reports and estimates of loss and damage to date; (b) the timely and full recoverability of reinsurance placed by XL with third parties; (c) the projected amount of ceded reinsurance recoverable and the ratings of reinsurers may change; (d) the timing of claims payments being faster than anticipated by XL; (e) adverse developments in the world's insurance, reinsurance and financial markets; and (f) the other factors set forth in XL's most recent report on Form 10-K and XL's other documents on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. XL undertakes no obligation to update publicly or revise any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise.
