Item 8.01. Other Events

On October 24, 2006 we announced that over 98% of the $3,000,000 in convertible debentures that we issued on April 3, 2006 have been converted to common stock in our company. This allows us considerably more financing flexibility because until over 75% of the debentures were converted to common stock, we were prevented from pursuing certain types of financing arrangements and our assets were encumbered as collateral security for repayment of the debentures. Now that the vast majority of the debentures have been converted our assets are no longer encumbered and we are no longer restricted in the type of financing arrangements we can make. In addition, our balance sheet no longer will show the converted debenture proceeds as a liability.
