Strategic Developments

British Airways and Iberia signed an agreement to develop a joint business on key routes between London and Spain that includes revenue and cost sharing on flights between London Heathrow and Madrid and Barcelona. The deal means the two carriers will now offer a better spread and choice of flight timings on these routes and better connections and shorter journey times for customers travelling to destinations around the world from London Heathrow and Madrid.

A new feature on ba.com means British Airways' customers can now change their flight bookings from their own computer, upgrade class of travel and cancel and arrange a refund of their tickets. Any costs for changes are calculated instantly and are completely transparent.

British Airways opened its first drive-through check-in for Club World passengers and a new exclusive check-in and lounge for First passengers in Barbados.

British Airways' New Year sale featured up to three quarters of a million discounted tickets to more than 65 worldwide destinations with savings of up to £331. Bargains include Venice for £65 return, New York for £199 return and Hong Kong for £399 return.

Alan Burnett was appointed as head of British Airways' UK and Ireland sales and marketing. He replaces David Noyes, who took up the position of director Heathrow.
