CVRD signed Memorandum of Understanding for study of coal deposit in Mongolia

Rio de Janeiro, June 8, 2005 Companhia Vale do Rio Doce (CVRD), the world's largest iron ore producer, and Itochu Co., Ltd., a Japanese trading company, signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) for cooperation in the formation of a consortium to bid for the development of the Tavan Tolgoi coal field in Mongolia.

This agreement, which does not involve corporate commitment, is similar to others signed in the past by the Company. The initiative is part of CVRD's research and development efforts, and is aligned with the Company's strategy of strengthening its presence in the coal market.

This press release may contain statements that express management's expectations about future events or results rather than historical facts. These forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected in forward-looking statements, and CVRD cannot give assurance that such statements will prove correct. These risks and uncertainties include factors: relating to the Brazilian economy and securities markets, which exhibit volatility and can be adversely affected by developments in other countries; relating to the iron ore business and its dependence on the global steel industry, which is cyclical in nature; and relating to the highly competitive industries in which CVRD operates. For additional information on factors that could cause CVRD's actual results to differ from expectations reflected in forward-looking statements, please see CVRD's reports filed with the Brazilian Comissão de Valores Mobiliários and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
